GREAT FIRE HALTED; ABOUT ONE-FOURTH OF SAN FRANCISCO SAVED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—At 10 o'clock this morning trumpeters were sent out by General Funston to announce to the thousands assembled in the parks of the outlying districts that the fire was at an end. Generally speaking, this information was accurate enough, but, as a matter of fact, quite a blaze was still raging on Telegraph Hill.

But no one bothered very seriously about that, for so long as the flames were confined to the vicinity of North Beach, the Western Addition and the Pacific Heights districts of the city were safe.

DESPERATE STAND.

The desperate stand of the heroes of the fire department at an early hour this morning when they stopped the sweep of the flames at Geary street and Van Ness avenue saved the city from complete ruin. Had they failed in this, their last effort, there would not be a house standing in San Francisco at the present writing save a few shacks south of the park or in the vicinity of Carville.

And, strange to say, this great victory was due to the applications of wet blankets and rugs to the neighboring buildings. They saved them from the flames. Previous to this the fire ladders hoped to win out with the aid of the hose and dynamite. But where the hose and the high explosive failed, the dampened blankets and wetted rugs won.

Yesterday Mayor Schmitz announced that if the progress of the fire could be stopped at Van Ness avenue, the Western Addition and the Pacific Heights would be saved from destruction.

ALL MONEY SAFE IN SAN FRANCISCO BANKS; RECORDS IN THE HALL OF JUSTICE ARE SAVED.

At the bankers' meeting in Kohler & Chase Hall this morning, Mr. Lynch of the First National Bank reported that a committee had examined all the bank and safe deposit vaults in San Francisco and found them all intact. This makes it certain that the money and papers on deposit are all safe.

It was also reported that the books and records in the San Francisco Hall of Records also escaped serious injury.

And every member of the fire department realized that the only hope of saving the comparatively few remaining buildings of San Francisco lay in the carrying out of Mayor Schmitz theory.

TERRIBLE STRUGGLE.

After a terrific struggle they were successful in confining the outer wall of flame to the east side of Van Ness avenue, from Union street to Clay.

At Clay street they temporarily lost control of the fire and it spread west to Franklin street, along which it raged to Sutter street. There the heroes, after a desperate battle, drove it back to Van Ness avenue. Shortly afterwards the famous struggle at the junction of Geary street and the avenue took place.

APPALLING SIGHT.

A drive along Van Ness avenue from O'Farrell to Bay streets affords one of the most appalling sights that has ever disfigured the earth. The beautiful residences, hotels and department houses that adorned this famous thoroughfare have been wiped completely out of existence.

The only home of pretention that remains even partially intact is the Claus Spreckels place. Of this gorgeous monument in red, but the walls stand. The gorgeous interior fittings have

FAMINE INEVITABLE DECLARES FUNSTON

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The following telegram was received by the War Department shortly after 11 o'clock this forenoon from General Funston:

"Burned district now approximately as follows: From water front up Broadway to Mason street, thence south to California street, thence to Jones street, thence diagonally to Van Ness and Golden Gate avenues. All this line now actively burning. Fire on following line practically out.

"From Van Ness west on Golden Gate avenue to Fillmore, thence south to Market; thence on irregular line to Valencia and Twenty-sixth streets; thence irregularly east to bay.

"Indications are that active fire line will advance west to Van Ness and north to Union and Montgomery avenues. About 300,000 people homeless. Everything is quiet. Troops co-operating with police. Famine seems inevitable. All large supply stores burned. Most energetic efforts from outside only can prevent frightful suffering. Weather now fine, and it is expected to remain so. I request that everything possible be done in the way of food supplies, tentage and blankets. No more troops needed at present."

SECRETARY METCALF IS COMING TO OAKLAND

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Roosevelt and members of his Cabinet today devoted the greater part of their semi-weekly session to a discussion of the calamity which has befallen San Francisco.

The matter was taken up immediately after the Cabinet convened and it was decided that Secretary Metcalf, who is a resident of Oakland, should proceed to the stricken city at once as a representative of the national government. Secretary Metcalf will leave for San Francisco this afternoon. It will be his effort to consult with the Governor of California and the city authorities of San Francisco, and to advise the national administration what, if anything, may be done to alleviate the suffering.

FIRE IS CHECKED ON VAN NESS AVENUE

UNKNOWN MAN IS KILLED BY A TRAIN

The death of John Russell Simpson, a body, which is now at the morgue.

Scotchman, 30 years of age, who fell with a ladder at the home of Alex M. McCarthy, corner of 13th and Brush streets, last evening about 6:30, was one of the indirect results of the earthquake.

Simpson had last been employed as a painter for the Southern Pacific Company at Portrero, but had been fixing a chimney for McCarthy. After supper he went back for his pipe. As he went up the ladder, which lay alongside the building, the ladder slipped from its fastenings and threw him head first on the bricks below, fracturing his skull at the base and in front. He never regained consciousness, and died an hour or so after at the Receiving Hospital.

He was married, his wife being in Scotland; was a ship steward and cook by profession for fourteen years. Came to this port January 17, 1905, on the Eva Montgomery of London, but had been working mostly since at the gas works on both sides of the bay, as a painter.

He had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson of 710 Market street, Oakland, for the last year, nearly, and was greatly beloved for his genial and neighborly ways. He was a man of excellent habits and sent all his money home to his wife. He had no children.

It is reported that he was a member of the Gas Workers Union, and it is expected they will take charge of his funeral.

AN UNKNOWN.

An unknown man was killed by the Oakland local on the mole early this morning. He was a Swede and a laboring man, but his name is unknown. The things found on his person were a two-foot rule, spectacles and case, "gold" watch, 55 cents, two-bladed, black-handled knife. No book, writing or name.

He was seen by parties after 3 a. m. this morning, there under the influence of liquor. When found his clothes were dripping wet and muddy.

The body was found about midway the length of the broad gauge mole. The position of it showed that the man had stumbled over one track, after getting out of the water, and fallen with his head and arms across one rail of the next. Both arms were broken, and the car wheels had passed over his neck.

DIED ON FERRY BOAT.

Mrs. Mary McIntyre, a native of Ireland, aged 65 years, died of fright or exhaustion, in the company of her husband, just as the ferry boat docked at the Oakland side at 7:30 last evening. She had been in ill health for five years, and the excitement of the earthquake and fire were too much for her. Her husband's name is John B. McIntyre, and previous to the fire they had a little business at 1928 Pierop street, San Francisco.

E. H. HARRIMAN IS AIDING ALL SUFFERERS

CHICAGO, April 20.—E. H. Harriman passed through Chicago on his special train today for San Francisco. He was in the city less than an hour, arriving at 7:30 and leaving over the Northwestern a little earlier than 8:30. He said that all of the Harriman lines and all of the steamship interests which he controls will be placed at the service of San Francisco.

"I have issued orders," he said, "that the situation in San Francisco is to be considered above everything else. All the motive power of the Harriman lines and all of the steamship lines in which I am interested have been instructed to do everything possible, and with the utmost energy, for the relief of the people of San Francisco.

"These orders are that San Francisco is to have precedence at all points over all classes of business. I have ordered the collection and immediate dispatch of supplies from Los Angeles, Sacramento, Oakland and other points. All such shipments that may be given to the Harriman lines for transportation to San Francisco will, of course, be handled without charge of any kind to the shippers.

"I am of the confident opinion that San Francisco will rapidly be rebuilt and will be a greater city in the future than it has been in the past.

"I am going through as rapidly as possible on a special train in order to see that my orders are carried out and to aid in their execution as much as I possibly can, by being on the ground myself."

(BY C. E. WILSON, TRIBUNE Staff.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—After a fierce battle with the flames, which all day yesterday advanced steadily toward Van Ness avenue, from Market street to the bay, the firemen won a victory over the raging elements, and all of that portion of San Francisco lying to the west is safe. Long before the fire had reached the vicinity of Van Ness avenue, the firemen realized that if once the flames reached that thoroughfare that the ocean would quench the conflagration. Every available stream of water and every engine was concentrated on Van Ness. The crews of dynamiters rushed recklessly and heedlessly to where the fire was burning its fiercest, and began the work of demolishing the buildings for a space of two blocks. The firefighters with hose and nozzle then gave battle royal to the flaming, flaring flames. On one side was an insatiable demand breathing fire from its nostrils and never relaxing its vigilance or attack for a moment. On the other side were tired and weary firemen, with eyes red and staring from the loss of sleep and constant peering into the flames. The battle seemed unequal, and it raged for ten hours. Finally human courage and ingenuity overcame the ferocity of the fire, and drove it back. At one or two places the fire managed to creep across the street and snatch a few scattered buildings, but in each case the fire was put out and the remainder of the city saved.

BUSINESS MEN GET OFFICES

Where They Will Be Located for the Present.

The advance guard of hundreds of commercial, financial, professional and development concerns which have, heretofore, done business in San Francisco and which, for an indefinite period must be located in this city, has already arrived.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company, as a consequence of the destruction of its offices in San Francisco, has rented twenty-five rooms in the Union Savings Bank building at the corner of Thirteenth street and Broadway, and will there install its auditor's department. There are, perhaps, a hundred people connected with this department of the company and the greater number of these, owing to the dismantled condition of San Francisco will be obliged to establish their homes here. This, with the accompanying families, means a handsome addition to the local population.

It has been stated that the company in question will also establish here for an indefinite period its printing department. Rumor has it that the company has secured quarters in the Taylor building at the northwest corner of Telegraph avenue and Seventeenth street but, at this writing, the agent of the property could not be found to substantiate it.

PARAFFINE OIL COMPANY.

Four more rooms in the Union Savings Bank building have been rented for office purposes to the Paraffine Oil Company. The factory of this company is located on this side of the bay but the offices have heretofore been located in San Francisco.

ARCHITECT SCHULZE.

Henry A. Schulze, one of the best known and most successful architects of San Francisco, has secured quarters at the northwest corner of Twentieth street and Telegraph avenue. Mr. Schulze's business has necessitated the employment of a large number of draughtsmen but a still larger number must now be employed for some months because of the increased demands which will be made upon Mr. Schulze's services.

INSURANCE.

John Beckwith, who has long been connected with the insurance business in this city and across the bay, has rented a large set of quarters in the building adjoining that in which Mr. Schulze has secured rooms.

BANK COMMISSIONERS.

The State Bank Commissioners have opened offices in the Syndicate building on Broadway near Fourteenth street and will remain there indefinitely.

PACIFIC IMPROVEMENT CO.

The Pacific Improvement Company, one of the giant corporations of the State of California, has secured the whole floor of the store at 1006 Broadway. The company owns the unequaled Hotel Del Monte at Monterey and has various town sites among other enterprises throughout the State.

I. W. HELLMAN JR. HAS FAITH IN NEW CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—I. W. Hellman Jr., the banker, was one of the first to pass through the ruined business portion of the city today. He was very sanguine as to the future. He said:

"These ruins will be the site of a new city which will rival Paris in beauty and withal twice as substantial. The banks will weather the storm and before many days the city will throb with life and activity which it never knew before."

ANOTHER FIRE IN BUSINESS DISTRICT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—The fire broke out afresh this morning on Montgomery and Lombard street. The business houses are being blown up by dynamite. It is thought that the fire can be prevented from reaching the water front.

Telegraph Hill is burning today and will almost be totally destroyed. The houses presented a very spectacular appearance while they were ablaze. Being situated so high up the flames seemed to leap higher into the sky than they really did. After the fire had twisted itself into sinuous and grotesque forms and eaten the underpinning of the buildings away, the houses went crashing and tumbling like a ball of fire to the bottom of the hill, where they spread additional disaster.

The spectacle was so grand that the thousands of weary pilgrims on their way to Oakland paused and watched it. After devouring the southern portion of Telegraph Hill the flames took the direction of the undestroyed business portion and was burning briskly at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The water front near Channel street appears safe.

LOS ANGELES TO AID

E. T. EARL SAYS THE SOUTHERN CITY WILL HELP OUT.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Orders have been issued by the War Department to army officers to purchase at Los Angeles immediately 200,000 rations and at Seattle 8,000,000 rations and hurry to San Francisco.

The department was informed that there are 100,000 rations at the Presidio, that thousands of refugees are being sheltered there, and that the army is feeding them. One million rations already have been started to San Francisco by the department. The department today received from Major Duval, San Francisco, as follows:

"Answering yours, am issuing 8000 common wall tents in store at Presidio, also 1000 blankets and 1000 blankets. Will continue issuing until stock is exhausted. Lack of water very serious. Can probably take care of tentage, as fast as it arrives. Warehouses in sea. Little danger at Presidio. All storehouses in city totally destroyed with contents except storage of officers' effects. Docks and all transports uninjured. Have removed records and files to Presidio." —out the State. These quarters will be shared by the federated concern known as the Oakland Water Front Company.

BANKS COMING.

There are now in town a number of representatives of San Francisco banks, the buildings of which the fire destroyed. They are looking for quarters in which to reestablish business, because it is known they must first get under way here and remain here until they can erect some kind of structures on the sites of the vaults which hold their coin and securities.

REPAIRING BUILDINGS. Work on all the buildings injured by the earthquake is in progress and will be rushed to enable the occupants to resume business at the earliest possible moment.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE ARE NOW IN DANGER OF DEATH

Michael Williams, city editor of the San Francisco Examiner, arrived from the city at 10:30 this morning and made the following statement:

Shortly before 10 o'clock I boarded the Government steamer Gov. Sternberg, commanded by Captain Enas, and having on board members of the San Francisco Relief Committee, under orders from Colonel Reynolds, commander of the Twenty-second Infantry, to Commander all available tugs along the water front to go to the rescue of at least 10,000 men, women and children, congregated in the neighborhood of Meigs's wharf, who are menaced by the march of the flames down Telegraph and Russian Hills and the valley between.

Around Meigs's wharf there are several huge oil tanks, some of them containing at least 15,000 gallons of oil each. If the flames reach these tanks fearful explosions will result.

When the Governor Sternberg left Meigs's wharf the whole of that portion of North Beach seemed doomed. The people were flocking to the wharves and crowding into all available craft.

News reached the wharf before the sailing of the Governor Sternberg that both Portsmouth square and Jefferson square were being used as cemeteries, and in trenches hastily dug the bodies of victims were being placed. From Fort Mason troops were dispatched to Sausalito, where rioting is reported. From Mare Island provisions are being brought to Fort Mason by the steamer load. All provisions, save some uncooked salt meat, are exhausted at the Presidio, where at least thirty thousands people are encamped or lying on the ground.

MARKET STREET AGAIN SCENE OF ACTIVITY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Market street, the pride of the ruined metropolis, was again today the scene of activity.

There was a steady stream of people twenty feet wide pouring through the middle of the street all day. The majority of the people were on their way to the ferry depot. Quite a percentage, however, were traveling west.

In less than a week's time the thoroughfare will be cleared sufficiently to permit of the passage of all kinds of vehicles and pedestrians. It is estimated that 60,000 people passed up and down market street.

BANK DOING BUSINESS. Despite the ruins and the confusion the Market Street Bank is preparing to resume operations at once.

TONY LUBELSKI'S GENEROSITY. Col. Tony Lubelski, president of the Novelty Theater Company, vice-president of Fischer's Theater, San Francisco, and president of the Grand Theater, Reno, has donated the proceeds on an entire week of the Reno house for the benefit of the suffering San Franciscans and the theatrical people who are now in distress. Mr. Lubelski desires all theatrical people who are in need of help to apply to the Novelty Theater, Oakland, either to Mr. Lubelski personally, Harry Cohen, or Manager Guy C. Smith, who will add them from the Novelty benefit fund. As soon as the Novelty Theater of this city is put in repair, the proceeds from the performances for a whole week will be utilized for the object named.

NEWSPAPER WOMAN'S EXPERIENCES IN THE CITY'S SMOULDERING RUINS

BY HELEN WARWICK
Member TRIBUNE Staff

An earthquake shock at 5:15 on Wednesday morning! A small fire started an hour later, and, presently, across the Union—nay, around the world, flashed the message:

"San Francisco, the pride of the Pacific, is no more."

And awful as the words are, are they comprehended fully by the hearers? Do you, my readers, realize that from the ferry building out past the City Hall, down Market street, down that costly boulevard, not one building stands? That newspaper row is a thing of the past? That not one edifice marks the spot where in stately grandeur rose the Emporium, the Flood and the Prager buildings? That where thousands, gaily clad, congregated daily to gaze at fashion's displays, that there not one stone remains upon another? That in those very spots the dead lay piled with not one hand to bury some of the very last to gaze in the great plate glass windows, and laughing gaily, plan what the morrow should bring forth.

DEATH—DESTRUCTION.

And the morrow—the morrow came and with it death, destruction and chaos. Tonight in San Francisco our once boasted darling the scene is a repetition of the ruins of ancient Greece and Rome. The paved streets are mere cow paths—fragments of great walls rise trembling from smoking heaps of debris, soldiers march the streets with fixed bayonets, and homeless people by the thousands crowd against each other seeking shelter—where, they know not!

HORRIBLE FATE.

Where, they know not! With a ruined city in back of them, the great ocean in front of them, a wall of fire pressing them towards the infinite sea, while the tenderest recollections of life and dear, rising outstretched hands and clinging arms, often to be seen no more, seem to beckon them back into the sea of flame.

"Pitiable sights," you say "Pitiable!" The word is weak! My readers have you but a tiny roof to cover you a bit of bread to eat, and your dear ones—especially your dear ones with you—bow your head and thank the good God Pray as you have never prayed before to be spared a like fate, for tonight, tonight in San Francisco thousands are homeless, thousands are penniless, thousands are even without a bit of bread, thousands reared in luxury have not one change of clothing—and only across the bay. Can you realize? Can you comprehend that? Do you know that many a mother weeps for her babe tonight? That many a woman wanders alone, feeble and alone, seeking in vain for her natural protector, and finally falls to the sidewalk to be raised by some more fortunate survivor and taken—not to be comforted for who could comfort?—to a place of safety?

PITIFUL SIGHT.

Just picture to yourself an old, old man bowed with at least three score and 10 years—in black miles of flame and ruins, in front he knows not what his gray locks fluttering in the breeze—the hot fire breezes—painfully pushing a chair before him, trying—as it is in vain—to reach a place where in safety he could lay his feeble, tottering body; where—where what?—a temporary safety, perhaps, and then once more that old chair scraping the sidewalk, once more those feeble veined old hands trying to drag that tottering, trembling, old body to a place of refuge.

The end? I know not! The old sufferer was in the danger belt, and alone, and all hurried past. A pitying word, a sigh, but—! And the last I saw of the despairing old man the claw-like hands were grasping the chair and trying to push more rapidly.

Down on Broadway in the Italian quarter people pushed and crowded on the way to the ferry, dragging some huge trunks, which they slid down the hills or pulled with straps. Many stopped to help the more feeble, but all pushed, pressed on—all were desperate to reach refuge. There on the coping sat a woman holding in her arms a boy of six—an Italian, with a black shawl over her head, but nevertheless "a mother." Eyes dark and dry, and a look of frantic despair on her face. Close to her covered the child, his dark eyes wide and unchildlike, his little hands clenched at his side. "No home?" I queried. "No home!"—in broken English—came the almost inevitable answer. "The boy ill?" "Yes!" again the tragic word. "My man is gone and my babe, there is but one home," and in her hand lay a sharp knife, on which her eyes rested. The end?

MISS HELEN WARWICK, A MEMBER OF THE TRIBUNE STAFF, YESTERDAY MORNING WENT TO SAN FRANCISCO, DISEMBARKING AT THE FERRY BUILDING, AND MADE A TOUR OF THE DISMANTLED CITY. THE JOURNEY WAS MADE ON FOOT, AND IT IS ESTIMATED THAT MISS WARWICK COVERED THIRTY-THREE MILES OF TERRITORY. SHE WENT THROUGH THAT VAST THROG OF PEOPLE CONGREGATED BETWEEN THE BURNING CITY AND THE OCEAN; WAS THE FIRST NEWSPAPER REPRESENTATIVE TO GO THROUGH THE PRESIDIO HOSPITAL, WHERE LAY SCORES OF INJURED; WAS THE FIRST PERSON TO ASCERTAIN THAT FIRE CHIEF SULLIVAN OF SAN FRANCISCO WAS ALIVE; WAS GIVEN AUTHORITY TO PASS ALL MILITARY LINES; WAS MADE A RED CROSS NURSE, AND WAS GIVEN A WRITTEN DOCUMENT FROM CHIEF OF POLICE DINAN TO PASS ALL LINES THROUGHOUT THE CITY. PITIFUL CANNOT DESCRIBE THE SIGHTS SEEN BY MISS WARWICK; THE DEAD LYING IN THE OPEN, SCORES OF INJURED UNCARED FOR AND THE HOMELESS PEOPLE FLEEING BEFORE THE RAGING FLAMES IN THE GREAT CARAVAN. DESPITE THE TERRIBLE HOLOCAUST, MISS WARWICK SAYS THAT THE PEOPLE, AS A WHOLE, ARE BEHAVING NOBLY—THERE IS NO RIOTING AND EACH IS HELPING THE OTHER, THE RICH ON A LEVEL WITH THE POOR, AND EACH STOPS TO LIGHTEN THE BURDEN OF HIS NEIGHBOR.

Who can tell? To what home did she refer? The one home where rich and poor are equal. The dark eyes were tragic and who can wonder? And to the poor soul the grave may seem a place of peace.

SAD, SAD, INDEED.

The city is sad tonight and many hearts are breaking with a load of care. Down at the ferry yesterday afternoon stood a man and in his arms he held a small bundle. Such a look of despair I have never seen upon a human face. At first I thought him intoxicated, but another look assured me to the contrary. He staggered and seemed about to fall, and a bystander stepped up to him. At first the question asked seemed to be uncomprehensible to the stricken creature. Slowly he grasped the idea and drew the small bundle closer tighter, then thrusting it forward, pulled back the wrapping and dear heaven where lay two babies two little twins, tiny babes of but a few weeks, and dead.

For two days he had carried them, hoping the warmth of his body would revive them. They were all he had. Their mother was gone and grief had driven him mad.

Near the Presidio an elegantly dressed man assisted a woman (cultured, beautiful) across the street, and close to her breast was clasped a yellow haired doll. A look of complete peace upon her face she stroked the daven hair and believed in her deremented state that her own dear babe rested in her arms. The awaking? There may be none for God is good, and forgetfulness often must be sweet.

STUDENT'S MAD ACT.

Down Broadway, making rapid strides backward, rushed a well-known University student, his feet 2 devoted only to one thing—a mad desire to reach safety. In his hand but one article, a stuffed yellow bird. Many called for succor and aid, but on he fled his bird tightly clasped, intent upon its safety.

A Jap grasping a tea-kettle, old and battered, likewise pressed on toward his goal, evidently the same as the others—the suburbs.

Down at the ferry furniture is crowded—everything from a trypsin to a piano is there—everything—and people guard their belongings. Signs have been posted all over the city signed by the Mayor, ordering the soldiers to shoot, AND SHOOT TO KILL any civilian discovered looting in any manner. Isn't it right?

Is it possible that when thousands are suffering this order is necessary? But if it is, let the soldiers shoot and shoot neither too high nor too low, but to KILL.

RATIONS BEING SEIZED.

All the rations in the city are being seized by the troops, for military law prevails, and today—what do you think? Loaves of stale French bread in some cases brought $1 and crackers 10 cents a piece and a drink of milk 25 cents.

From Mare Island, Monterey and all surrounding posts provisions are coming to be distributed free to the destitute. So be of good cheer, you need not fear starvation.

One of the sweetest sights in San Francisco took place down at the ferry, where lines of men were stationed with pails of water, giving free drinks to all who desired them. And how eagerly the hands went out, how the face brightened. A little thing, you say. Yea truly, but to the destitute often a kind word causes the tears of relief to flow.

THREE HATS ON HIS HEAD.

Down Green street came a big six-footer one hand full of bundles, two hats on his head (a common occurrence, even three hats being not at all unusual), a great pack on his back but his free hand holding the cunningest of grey kittens—a little wide-eyed creature, trembling with fright, but not endeavoring to budge, like the rest, kitty desired a place of safety.

At the corner of Washington street and Van Ness avenue, before those magnificent structures lay in ruins, an old man stood, tottering and old, but his eyes wandering, searching for trifles to carry away. Someone had dropped some music at this spot and I could see the old eyes peering cautiously around. Suddenly he shuffled off and to his breast he clasped, title out, "Goodbye, My Lady Love."

HOW PEOPLE ACT.

But all in all, the people are conducting themselves nobly, each seeming to try to reassure the other and, whatever their fate, try to mitigate it by the thought of how much worse it MIGHT have been.

One sweet woman said: "I have lost everything but what my Chinaman has in a wagon, and most of that I have given to the needy, but, thank God, my six little boys are safe in Carmel. If you hear of any extremely destitute cases, do let me know, as I may be able to comfort some, even though I have not one cent to give." The Presidio Hospital is crowded with sufferers.

FIRE CHIEF SAFE.

No one is allowed within but hospital attendants, but a pass finally secured admission. With a Red Cross badge on my coat sleeve I went through each ward, and such tales of sorrow as I heard. Down on the streets the rumor was rife that Chief Sullivan of the San Francisco fire department had died from his injuries received, but in Ward H there he lay—a badly injured man, surely—but it is hoped on the road to speedy recovery. In another ward Henry Gleason, the famous Chinatown Captain of Police, lay.

"Yes," he cried, "Chinatown has gone, but while a fine thing, it seems a dead shame to be destroyed at such an expense to others."

How eagerly he seized each bit of news and gnawed his mustache, as he thought of the splendid chances to become famous, he was missing.

PATIENTS IN PANIC.

Many of the patients are panic-stricken for fear the fire will reach the hospital, but this seems unlikely. As far as I can judge, this seems one of the safest points from destruction.

All the city is dark, the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company on Buchanan street being a total wreck. The hospital, however, makes its own gas, so manages to exist. While I wandered through the great building a woman rushed in, frantically searching for her husband, who had been removed from the Lane Hospital to the Presidio, and when I left she was still frantically searching—searching for her husband with tears streaming down her face. Many of the patients from Lane's Hospital, which is a complete ruin, are in the Army Reservation.

Every moment more victims of the awful disaster are being brought in to be discharged as soon as possible.

One young fellow stretched out a white hand (evidently not a working hand) and said: "Mademoiselle, will you shake hands with a poor sufferer, not much older than yourself?" Yes, I almost got mine, but I'm not complaining—a broken shoulder will mend, but—"and he nodded toward the man beside him "a broken back is worse."

DIED OVER BABY.

The Valencia Hotel, where several were killed, collapsed entirely yesterday morning, and one of the rescuers found a man, dead, with his arms about the cradle of a darling little baby, perfectly safe and smiling in its sleep.

Some noble work is being done in the stricken city. One man has moved six families within a few hours. "You certainly must be reaping a rich harvest!"

I said "harvest," and his honest eyes flashed angrily. "No, mam, I've not taken one cent. The boss said, 'Charlie, take the wagon if you want, and use it, only take care of it' and so I've been a-moving them ever since. Money? No—the gratitude was enough." And this from a simple, uneducated chap. Surely hearts beat warm at a time like this.

CHARITY OF SOLDIERS.

The soldiers have given up their tents to the sufferers, and repose on the bosom of earth these nights. Water is scarce and many, many are seen drinking from the soldiers' canteens. Not one cross word have I heard from a single boy in blue, and as many situations have been hard, I say truthfully "Bless them!"

Six hundred cadets have volunteered under the command of Captain Nance of Berkeley, and they likewise are assisting in maintaining the martial rule. Not a drop of water to quench the flames' has been the cry, but now comes the fear of a water famine, and the following official circular has been issued:

"Fort Mason, Cal., April 19, 1906.

"General Orders

PEOPLE ARE BRAVE.

But despite the tacts of the awful desolation, people are brave—nobly so and NO PANIC REIGNS IN SAN FRANCISCO. Thousands are leaving the city, and the Mayor has chartered many boats to carry the people from the vicinity of Van Ness avenue FREE around to the ferry slip, where the boats ply almost momentarily to the suburbs, carrying thousands upon thousands of refugees. The official report in regard to this affair to Colonel Morris, commanding the guard west of Van Ness avenue, is as follows:

"Headquarters Pacific Division, San Francisco, Cal., April 19, 1906.

"Col. Charles H. Morris, commanding guard west on Van Ness avenue—The city authorities are desirous of having the people in the vicinity of Van Ness avenue and west, informed that tug boats and ferries have been procured and will leave Fort Mason for Oakland ferries.

"By command Brigadier General

Funston."

The parks and public squares are crowded with masses of humanity. Little camps are being formed, and everyone is trying to make the best of things. The man who a few days ago lived in state with liveried servants and elegant mansion today feels a prince often in a mattress and warm blankets.

Here Is a Story From the Pen of R. W. Taylor of THE TRIBUNE Staff, Telling of the Wiping Out of San Francisco.

By R. W. TAYLOR
Member TRIBUNE Staff

You ask me what is burned of San Francisco? Tell me the name of any well known place in it, that tended to make San Francisco what it was and I will tell you that it is gone.

Did you ever see the new post-office building that has taken ten years or more to build?

It is gone.

Did you ever take lunch at Tait's, Zinkland's, Dechau Tavern, The Good-fellow's, or wandering a little into the slum, eat a French dinner at Luchetti's or Sanguinetti's?

They are gone. All gone.

Did you ever visit any of the prominent buildings such as used to be so well known that bunco steers, in order to feel out an intended victim would ask direction of him to the City Hall, the Call building, the Palace Hotel or the St. Francis?

They too are gone.

Did you ever meet your "baby mine" for an evening at Delmonico's or the Poodle Dog?

They are no more.

And so one might go on through a column of names set in agate with the same answer to your query.

LINGERIE A WASTE.
Fair reader, did you ever do any shopping at the White House, the City of Paris, Lilies & Co., the Emporium, O'Connor & Moffitt's, or Newman & Levison's?

It will be many a day, perhaps never, before you will be able to buy any more of those delicate articles that mean so much to you, at any of them.

Children, did you ever eat an ice cream soda, a chop suey, or a Coney Island at the Golden Pheasant, Mackey's, Gruenhagen's, Haas Brothers, or even out as far as Blum's at Sutter and Polk street?

There are no ice nor candy there nor even buildings.

SCENE OF DESOLATION.
I wandered through the scene of desolation as if in a trance. The city that I had known and loved night and day for years might have been unburied Pompeii—known too, not as the ordinary individual. The landmarks all are gone—the buildings that even remorseless Time had dealt kindly with. The shock of earthquake and the rapacity of the flames had no sympathy for them. San Francisco when built again will be a new city with nothing but its beautiful location back of the bay named by Father Junipero in honor of St. Francis, to connect it with the mushroom city of '49.

Once again, as did the pioneer father, may one look from the crest of the hills and see the bay beneath its shores, a limitless desert. To be sure those sand dunes are now covered with a ghouliah growth of sentinel spires and decrepit and crooked excrecences terrible in their loneliness, but the Golden Gate and the glistening waters and the magnificent harbor are there as before.

ASK FOOD; CLOTHING

The Oakland Relief Committee announces that it wishes donations of everything in the way of edibles, as well as old clothes or sheets that may be torn up and used for towels.

These may be left at the headquarters, the First Congregational Church, where the committee is attending to the work of feeding the destitute ones.

city after dark—from midnight until the first gray streaks of dawn awoke the slumbering newsboy waiting for his papers.

The early morning scenes, shall I ever know them again?

From the Barbary Coast to Butchertown, from the Mission to the waterfront, I knew its every block. I searched yesterday for any of the old marks but they were no more. I had to find a solitary lamp post at times to assure myself of the locality I was in.

THE "COAST" IS NO MORE.
Stranger, did you ever wander in to the byways and eat dinner on the Barbary Coast at the Bon Gato or the Fleur d'Italia, on Broadway and wandering afterwards down Pacific street see a huck and wing dance at King & Purcell's?

Did you ever drink a tumbler or more of black coffee and cognac at the Roma and wind up for a nip at "Jimmy" Gibbs on Merchant street?

The Italian restaurants, with their garlic and spaghetti are things of the past. "Jimmy" Gibbs has sought safety with thousands of others in flight and the place which has been the resort of old timers for half a century probably is gone for ever.

Did you ever go to Glen Dixon's place near the California Market and get a drink of half-and-half of a hot summer's day? A few of the men who knew San Francisco when it was a baby have made it their headquarters for fifty years but they will never see the pewter mugs filled from those barrels again.

DEATH IS WELCOMED
SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Captain Bennett of the Fire Department estimates scores of persons were burned to death through their attempts to save their property.

After being driven out of the houses the people returned.

In many cases persons were again dragged out in an unconscious condition. The streets were filled with those who were rescued.

OFFICES IN OAKLAND

The Mutual Life Insurance Company, whose offices were at Montgomery and Sacramento streets, have moved to Oakland, being one of the very first to do so.

They have secured quarters at rooms 21-23-24 Bacon Block, where President W. S. Tupper, second Vice-President John F. Roach, C. H. A. Behrens, assistant to the president, are located.

The company's value being fireproof the records were all preserved. The company has assets of $11,000,000, which will mean quite an addition to Oakland's business holdings.

The Western Pacific has also secured a location for its general offices in the Bacon Block.

PRICES AT HAYWARD

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION

HAYWARD, April 20.—The grocerymen of this place held a meeting and agreed to raise the price of groceries.

Mayor Heyer says if this is done he will confiscate the stores and sell the groceries himself at fair prices.

"At 11:35 Wednesday night, on Mission street, between Third and Fourth, a wagon load of dynamite exploded, scattering wagon, driver and horses in small pieces," said J. Williams of 256 Jessie street, this afternoon. "I was knocked down though I was three blocks away."

bor are there as before.

The shock of temblor and destruction have paralyzed the seat of industry and commerce of the West. The stately ships that come and go will sail away carelessly to other ports for a time. When the revival follows and the readjustment takes place will it follow out the old lines or will the scene of many of its former industries shift from the peninsula to the main land?

DAMAGE INCALCULABLE.
There is no way of estimating the damage that has been done. The subject is too vast a one for human computation. This catastrophe is one that will go down in the world's history of terrible visitations. Who can conjure up a more awful, pitiable and dire calamity. With the earth we call home, to whom we apply the words kindly and mother, suddenly turned against us, an agency but to destroy coupled and leagued with the fire stolen by Prometheus. What pen can describe it?

Who can tell of the thousands of activities put out of existence, snuffed suddenly out in a night? The diversity of the ruin!

A wave of the arm can only indicate its vastness, while words fail to describe the loneliness and utter desolation of it.

MISCREANT IS SHOT.
While walking through the ruins a spot was pointed out to me where a man was shot for kindling a fire to break out a spite for fear that the disaster might leave some of its work unfinished.

I have no corroborative evidence for it, but tell it as it was told me, without, probably, all of the minute circumstances and detail. It was just opposite where the Orpheum used to stand, in the Alcazar building. Presumably the miscreant was an enemy of the owner, M. H. de Young.

Slinking furtively in and out among the deserted streets, a man was seen by a soldier, who watched him until he saw the man suddenly emerge from a darkened stairway with a burning brand in his hand. There was no request for an explanation. The man stood looking for a moment to see that his work was well started and while he was doing so the soldier quietly took aim and fired. The man was left where he fell and the building he had fired furnished material for his pyre.

SALEM, Or., April 20.—Governor Chamberlain telegraphed Governor Pardee last night the following:

"Twenty-six cars of supplies left Portland tonight. Also a car of nurses and doctors. Twenty-six more cars more will be started tomorrow. All blankets and mattresses in Portland are being sent. Governor Outler will call a special session of the Legislature to make the appropriation or will secure the money from bondholders and guarantee its payment. A carload of cooked provisions for San Francisco went out last night attached to the Union Pacific Limited passenger train.

ARE FEEDING THE HUNGRY REFUGEES

How the Oakland Committee Is Handling the Food Situation and Helping the Needy.

To feed and house the unfortunate people of San Francisco who have suddenly been bereft of homes and means of livelihood, is calling forth the best effort of the people of this city. It is calculated that at least 200,000 people have come to this side of the bay and are now distributed among the homes of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley. While hundreds have found lodging with friends there are the countless poor who are dependent upon charity in this dire extremity.

IMMEDIATE WANTS.

The work of evolving a system for supplying the immediate wants of the people is a matter that is now in the process of organization. To get some sort of a scheme whereby those in need can get the necessities of life is receiving the attention of the Governor, his staff, Mayor Mott and the local city, government and civic organizations. It is the general belief, however, that despite all efforts there is going to be great distress, and that actual starvation stares many in the face unless immediate and a whole-souled aid is forthcoming.

SUPPLY OF FOOD.

The supply of food in this city may last out the week and then, unless it is received in large quantities, the city will be in a state of want, and the rich and poor alike will be the sufferers. To what extent the outside country can supply the needs is a question that only actual trial will demonstrate. If the $1,000,000 appropriated by Congress and other amounts subscribed are made immediately available, and can be sent here in the form of provisions, the time of trial may be tidied over until the changed order of affairs can readjust themselves.

SUPPLIES CONSUMED.

Immense amounts of supplies were consumed in the fire at San Francisco, which was the distributing point for the cities about the bay and interior towns. This supply has been swept out of existence, and what the resources of the State are is a matter that is now the chief concern of those engaged in the relief work. The seizure of supplies coming in on the trains by the Relief Committee has been authorized by Mayor Schmitz in the following communication:

"San Francisco, April 19, 1906. "To the civil and military authorities: The bearer, J. C. Downey and party of Oakland Relief Committee is desirous of getting into the city in order to join in the work of the Relief Committee, and to perform such public service as he may be able to do, and is hereby authorized to draw on supplies in transit to San Francisco.

"E. E. SCHMITZ, Mayor."

CAR OF FLOUR.

Following out the spirit of this letter, and with the authorization given the committee by the civil authorities, Edwin Stearns, chairman of the executive committee, seized a carload of flour this morning containing 810 sacks. Of this amount twenty-five sacks were immediately sent out to Idora Park, where there are a large number of homeless people. Another twenty-five sacks were sent down to Adams Point, where the people are encamped under the trees. A carload of ice was also seized for the hospitals. A carload of potatoes was also taken.

PROMPT ACTION.

It is not the purpose of the committee to confiscate these goods, and the names of the consignors are taken in each case, and as soon as there are any funds available they will be paid for. The emergency, however, is such that prompt and firm action in the matter is deemed necessary. Besides these seizures Livermore sent in a wagonload of butter and eggs to the committee this morning. Winters has also notified the committee that there is a carload of hams, butter and eggs on its way to this city from the people of that locality. Other cities are sending supplies, and it is hoped that the amounts will be sufficient for the needs. At present the supply station at Thirteenth and Franklin streets is emptied as fast as the goods are received. The demands cannot begin to be supplied and what will result when the stores of the city are empty is a matter past conjecture.

BAKE SHOPS.

Mayor Mott this morning addressed the following circular to the bakers of the cities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley requesting them to continue work regardless of holidays:

"Oakland, April 20, 1906.

"Dear Sir: During this emergency I ask the continuous operation of all bakeshops to their full capacity and without any interruption during Saturday and Sunday.

"The president of the Bakers' Union has authorized its members to work seven days weekly during this stress upon the payment of the usual wages for extra time.

"FRANK K. MOTT, Mayor."

This communication will be served on every baker in these cities today in order to keep them at work on Saturday and Sunday, a part of both these days being observed by the union rules as holidays. The bakers have agreed to work their plants to their utmost capacity and to send all their surplus output to the relief committee. By working night and day it is believed that thousands of loaves can be furnished daily.

HEADQUARTERS.

The headquarters of the Relief Committee are at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, at Thirteenth and Franklin streets. Here the actual detail of the work is being handled by committees, which have charge of various branches of the work. There is, to begin with, a registration bureau, where all are asked to register their names for the use of those wishing to find families or friends. Hundreds of inquiries have been received for information in regard to people. In the hurried flight many families were separated and are at a loss to know in what direction to look for each other.

There is a provision committee, of which E. A. Young has been made chairman. He, with his committee, takes charge of the provisions, which are stored as fast as they are received in the grain warehouse at the corner of Thirteenth and Franklin streets. From here the provisions are sent out to the various depots where people are being fed throughout the city.

THE CHURCHES.

The churches of the city are taking charge of the work of ministering to the wants of the needy and hungry. At the First Presbyterian Church, at Fourteenth and Franklin street; the First Methodist Church, at Fourteenth and Clay streets; the Union Presbyterian Church, on Union street, hundreds were fed last night and today and none were sent away hungry or denied food. At Idora Park and at Adams Point hundreds have been fed, besides the work done by nearly all the other churches of the city, who, in one way or another, are working to aid in the work.

FAITH OF A WOMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Among the many pathetic incidents of the fire in San Francisco was that of a woman who sat at the foot of Van Ness avenue on the hot sands upon the hillside overlooking the bay, east of Fort Mason, with four little children, the youngest a girl of three, the oldest a boy of ten.

They were destitute of water, food and money. The woman had fled, with her children, from a home in flames, in the Mission district, and had tramped to the bay in the hope of sighting the ship, which she said was about due, of which her husband was the captain. "He would know me anywhere," she said, and she would not move, though a young fellow gallantly offered his tent, back on a vacant lot, in which to shelter her children.

This morning down Twelfth street came a woman and four children. Strange coincident, you say? Well, stranger things than this have happened in this and neighboring cities since the fatal earthquake. As she passed she smiled—and involuntarily the question was asked: "Homeless?" and the answer came: "Yes, but praise God my four children are saved and my husband's (a sea captain) ship will be here soon. All yesterday I looked for him—my home is all gone, but now I've decided to be brave and trust in the Lord and here we all are—safe anyway."

BUREAU FOR REGISTRATION

The Chamber of Commerce has a registration bureau to enable people to locate one another. Persons wishing to give or receive such information will register at Chamber of Commerce, Twelfth and Franklin streets.

GENERAL MANAGER AT THE MOLE

General Manager C. C. Calvin of the Southern Pacific Company will have headquarters at the Oakland mole until the rooms in the Union Savings Bank building are put in condition for use.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE RELIEF COMMITTEE.

All persons connected with the order of Sons of St. George, in need of assistance will report at headquarters of relief committee, 809 Twelfth street, between Webster and Franklin.

RAILROAD'S GOOD WORK

By C. E. WILSON, Tribune Staff.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—All the safe deposit vaults of the various banks are safe. They withstood the shock of earthquake and the enormous heat in grand shape and not a dollar of gold or currency or any of the securities are thought to have been lost. United States Sub-Treasurer Jacobs, who was through the burned business district, states in his opinion that not one of the safe deposit vaults was injured. He says: "There is a great deal of alarm felt by the people for fear the money in the banks may have been destroyed. The vaults withstood both the earthquake and the fire, and there will not be a dollar lost in them. Of course in many cases the vaults of the banks are covered with debris, which it will require a long time to remove. The money will be there, however."

GOVERNOR PARDEE HARD AT WORK FOR THE SUFFERERS

Governor Pardee has been an unremitting worker in the interests of the sufferers from the earthquake and fire in San Francisco. He came on a forced run to this city on the night of the catastrophe and has since been working almost every hour in the office of Mayor Mott in the City Hall. It is there he takes his meals and it is there also that he passes a few hours in sleep toward the early hours of the morning when most people are about rising to go about their daily avocations.

He has not even taken time to visit his building on Broadway, near Sixteenth street, which was injured in the earthquake.

The governor has sent hundreds of telegrams to mayors of towns throughout the West informing them of the loss which San Francisco has sustained and the needs of people for food and shelter which would have to be supplied. He has also replied to hundreds of telegrams asking for information on the subject and proffering assistance. In order to show the nature of the telegrams received it will be necessary to reproduce here a few of the messages.

WORK FOR ALL UNEMPLOYED

E. B. & A. L. Stone Company, the big firm of contractors, has posted bulletins to the effect that it is able to give employment to many thousand people in the vicinity of San Francisco, and throughout the interior of the State.

They are shipping men to Elmhurst Ranch, Siskiyou county, Cordella, Solano county, and many points where contracts have been taken. The company says it can employ every idle man.

This shows the extremely prosperous condition of California in the interior and it is known that there will be many thousands of men put to work tomorrow in San Francisco by the Southern Pacific Railroad in straightening and rebuilding tracks. The Western Pacific Company can also use many thousands.

ECZEMA SKIN RAW AND FEVERISH- ITCHING INTENSE

Eczeema is a tormenting, stubborn disease caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing redness, inflammation and almost intolerable itching. An inactive state of the system and sluggish condition of the eliminative members leaves the waste and refuse matter of the body to collect and sour instead of passing them off through nature's channels of bodily waste. The blood in its efforts to purge the system of all foreign matter absorbs this acid and throws it off through the pores and glands of the skin. The acid humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire, the straw colored, sticky fluid drying and forming crusts, and the itching is intense. When these pustules are scratched off the skin is left raw and feverish and often a solid sore is formed and kept up by the constant escape of acids from the blood. Local applications of salves, powders, lotions etc. are desirable and should be used because they allay the itching and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative, because they cannot reach the seat of the trouble, which is in the blood.

S. S. S. goes down into the blood, cleanses the circulation of all acids and humors, builds up the thin, sour blood and by removing every vestige of the cause cures Eczeema permanently. The irritating eruptions disappear, the itching and burning cease, and the acidified skin, being fed by a fresh, cooling stream of blood, becomes soft and smooth again. S. S. S. is made of healing, purifying roots, herbs and barks that will not damage any part of the system. Book on skin diseases and any medical advice free.

A meeting of all the fire insurance agents of San Francisco was held in Reed Hall this morning at 10 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by George W. Spencer. He said: "All persons who are not agents or actual representatives of insurance companies, will please leave the room at once."

On coming out of executive session a committee consisting of George W. Spencer chairman, Whitney Palache, W. H. Lowden, J. J. Jolly, Washington Irving, and Herbert Folger issued the following statement for THE TRIBUNE.

"The Fire Underwriters' Adjusting Bureau has been organized with headquarters at Reed Hall, Twelfth and Harrison streets, Oakland. Employees of fire insurance companies and of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific will report there where necessary provision will be made for eating and sleeping accommodations. Notice will be given at the earliest possible date, when claims may be presented. Mail and telegrams sent to above address will be delivered to the respective companies.

The clerks of the respective companies were ordered to report at Reed Hall this afternoon. An information bureau for the benefit of the insured has been established at this office, and will be maintained indefinitely.

The Public is Taking Its Bearings

The community is steadying itself and taking its bearings. While the loss of life and property is dreadful to contemplate, it is now apparent that the calamitous effects of the fire and earthquake are mainly to be classed among preventable accidents. Wisdom and prudence, instructed and tempered by awful experience, will guard against them in future.

Everything that made San Francisco populous and prosperous still exists unimpaired. The industrial and productive organism of California remains untouched. The area of destruction is limited to the peninsula of San Francisco and the Santa Clara, Sonoma and Russian river valleys. Behind this circle of ruin the great empire of California remains smiling, rich, prosperous and teeming with all the resources which create wealth and fields of activity and enterprise. The grain fields, vineyards, mines and forests are as they were before the calamity, ready to pour their treasures into the lap of San Francisco.

Uninjured in the vaults of the San Francisco banks lie more than a hundred millions of ready cash which will re-enter trade and reconstruction as soon as the ashes shall cool enough to permit of opening. The men who laid the foundation of San Francisco's greatness and prosperity began with neither money nor material; they had no base of supplies and operations, and created the magnificent fabric now in ruins with no vast, rich, thickly inhabited country, in the full tide of production, behind them, and no network of railways to bring speedy aid from every quarter of the globe. There is no need to despair, and the person who preaches its hopeless strain declares himself an imbecile, a coward and a public enemy.

Within a few hours after the first shock the people of Oakland realized that they were more frightened than hurt. The damage in this city is comparatively slight, and it was soon lost sight of in contemplation of the tremendous tragedy being enacted on the western shore of the bay. Not a single building in Oakland was destroyed, and only a few of them temporarily rendered unfit for business. The street railways, lighting, power, telephone and water systems are in perfect condition and running like clockwork. It has been fully demonstrated that Oakland is built on a secure foundation, and need have no fear for the future.

But a supreme necessity is upon us. The brunt of the work of active relief falls upon the citizens of this city. Complete organization must be effected at once, and every man and woman must get in and work—work hard and unselfishly, without looking for profit or glory. The best in humanity calls to us, and all Oakland must respond to the cry. We must share food and shelter with all who claim them, and vindicate the proud reputation Oakland has earned of being one of the most Christian and enlightened cities on the American continent.

Organize and work! Work and organize! The whole community must stand shoulder to shoulder and do the best thing possible under the circumstances, and cursed be he who exacts toll from misfortune and fattens on the miseries and calamities of his fellow man.

The newspapers appear to be waking up to the fact that the statement bandied about so glibly "that Pardee can't be nominated because the politicians are against him" is making the Governor stronger with the people every time it is uttered. The voting masses are instinctively against the politicians; they resent programs being fixed up for them in advance, and they gag at candidates foisted upon them by backroom caucus. They have not failed to observe that during the time all this thimble-rigging, political jobbing, back-capping, knocking and pitfall-digging for the Governor has been going on, the Governor has been calmly and serenely attending to the business of his office. It has not escaped their notice that he has taken no hand in making programs, constructing political machines or laying political wires. Hence the cackle about the Governor's unpopularity with the politicians makes him more popular with the people. Anyhow, a Governor who makes a first class executive and is not controlled by political cliques strikes the popular fancy. The politicians could not do a worse thing for the success of their own plans than go around telling the public they are opposed to Governor Pardee. This is giving the Governor a certificate of character to the average citizen.

The Springfield Republican reminds the President that the man with the muckrake is not responsible for the muck, and that the man and the rake are both better than the muck. This is quite true, but the President never asserted the contrary. While he denounced muck and vigorously declared in favor of cleaning it up, he condemned the idea that there is nothing in public life but muck. He did not deny the existence of muck nor did he apologize for it, but he combated the theory that journalism has no better or higher mission than muckraking. He protested against wholesale condemnation based upon exaggerated statements and loose assumptions which discredit the entire political and social structure.

Maxim Gorky is now in a position to appreciate the manifold blessings of a free press. His writings were suppressed in Russia, but in America the newspapers published in full not only what he said but what he did, and the statute of limitations was not permitted to run against a word or a deed. But while a free press and a free country are glorious, it is not so glorious to find that a man cannot do as he pleases in some particulars.

The Art of Road Making.

Fresno county has made the disappointing discovery that good roads cannot be made by squirting crude oil in greater or less quantities on any kind of surface—sand, adobe, loam, or what not—and letting traffic do the rest. It has been found that roads need solidity as well as surface; that putting oil on loam makes mud and putting it on sand makes a smooth surface that will not sustain weight.

The discovery is neither new nor surprising. It is merely re-learning the experience of the old lesson that good roads require a solid, permanent base. Oil on certain kinds of material prevents dust and mud, but if there be loose sand or soft loam underneath the porous plaster on the surface it is absurd to suppose the roads will bear up under heavy loads and withstand the wear and tear of heavy traffic.

The first requisite of a good road is a solid bed. The second is drainage. It is impossible to make a good road of loam, with or without oil. It is composed of fine light material which turns to mud in wet weather and resolves itself into dust when dry. It has no sustaining or cohesive elements, and cuts up under traffic whether wet or dry. Oil only makes it worse.

Sand by itself will not make a good road, but it is better than loam. It can be utilized to a large extent in road making. With proper treatment, however, a fairly good road can be made of adobe or clay soils. By giving the roadbed a proper crown, draining it and rolling or dragging it till it forms a solid body a firm highway is created. The application of crude oil on the surface of such a road, followed by rolling, will greatly improve it. Many fairly good roads of this kind are made in the clay regions of the South without the aid of oil.

We have done a lot of foolish experimenting with oil during the last five years in this State. A lot of money has been spent to no purpose and some comical blunders made. Vast quantities of oil were bought and poured out on the ground in the most haphazard way in the vain belief that the stuff possessed some occult quality which would create stability in material entirely destitute of it. No attempt was made to crown and harden the roads to make them weight sustaining, nor was there any discrimination in applying the oil. Great quantities would be applied in some places and very little in others, and the scientific principles involved were not studied at all.

Naturally that method of making roads has proved an egregious failure. Not because oil is not useful material, but because it was used without sense or discretion, and in the most vagrant and tentative fashion. Now the people of California are coming to a realization that road making is a science, and to be a success must be prosecuted in accordance with specific plans and philosophic principles. We have unlearned a lot of foolishness and are now in a position to learn something worth while.

The Chinese Ambassador has put the teeth of Congress on edge by writing an impertinent letter to a busybody who has undertaken to smash the Chinese exclusion law, but Washington society is not at all shocked at the idea of his being a polygamist. If he were a Russian revolutionist, now—ah! that would be different. The ladies who find the Ambassador so charming in his Oriental way do not come in personal contact with the inmates of his harem, and hence have no moral misgivings about associating with the master of that important adjunct to a first class Oriental establishment. Verily Madam Grundy sets a queer rule of conduct. She is not offended so much at the thing itself as at being brought face to face with the evidence of it.

The mob at Springfield, Missouri, seems curiously like the one at Springfield, Ohio, in some respects and curiously unlike in others. In both places there was manifest the same fierce antagonism to negroes because they are negroes, but in the Missouri city the mob did not burn and loot the dwellings of colored people accused of no offense, and did not chase the colored population like wild beasts. In Springfield, Missouri, the mass of the colored inhabitants appear to have been left unmolested, although the mob wreaked a barbarous vengeance on negroes there was reason to suspect of crime. No distinction whatever was made at Springfield, Ohio.

MAKING GOVERNMENT A BUSINESS.

Attention is being called to a singular development in municipal government in Texas, resultant entirely from the destruction of Galveston six years ago by an inundation. At that time, for purposes of the emergency, the city was placed by the Governor under control of a commission of five men, after the old city government had been abolished by the Legislature. The commission was virtually absolute, and its work of government during the years of reconstruction was so completely successful that the citizens of Galveston have declined to return to the old system of mayor and common council and various other administrative posts filled by popular election. As a permanent system of municipal government, Galveston now has simply the commission of five men, one of whom is given the title of mayor, and all of them are elected by the people. This commission is virtually a board of directors intrusted with the municipal administration in all its phases. So successful does this system appear to be in Galveston that other Texas cities are clamoring for it. Houston has just followed suit by securing a new charter embodying the Galveston idea, and Dallas, also, last week voted for it. There is a popular movement in the same direction at both San Antonio and Fort Worth. The Dallas News ventures to predict that "it will be only a few years before every city will be controlled by such government." Still, it will be necessary to elect honest, capable men to the commission.—Springfield Republican.

ADVICE TO CITY EDITORS.

The Washington Post has fallen into the bad habit set by other metropolitan newspapers and is just now engaged in reprinting extracts from country papers. This is done for the purpose of having fun with the country editors by copying what the metropolitan journalist too often looks upon as a sample of "country journalism." The Washington Post should be above that sort of thing. We venture the assertion that the daily newspapers print more of what they are pleased to call "rot" than the country papers do. If a country paper devotes six or eight items to one family, the city journalist copies it with great glee and chuckles over the humor of it all. And yet the metropolitan papers recently printed more insufferable "rot" about one or two particular families than a hundred country newspapers could possibly print in a year.

The metropolitan papers take themselves too seriously. They seem inclined to the belief that they are "it" when the fact of the matter is they wield comparatively little influence as compared with the country weeklies. And they are by no means free from the faults they so joyfully point out in their country contemporaries. Only a few days ago the Washington Post said: "The program opened with a greeting song by the whole vocal class, following by a selection by a part of the class called 'The Little Bird Tells.'" We refuse to believe that any part of the vocal class was called "the little bird tells."

The city journalist should remove the beam in his own eye before pointing out the beam in the country journalist's eye.—The Commoner.

REFUGEES BATTLES FOR LIFE IN FIERCE FLAMES

W. A. Knowles, who recently arrived here from Chicago, spent last night in the fire which broke out in the Hayes Hill district in San Francisco, and was one of the few who managed to escape. He carried his little hand which he carried was caught in the flames and he was burned on the face and hands. He left his post at about seven o'clock, and when he arrived here, covered with soot and ashes, he made the following statement to THE TRIBUNE:

"The fire has devastated everything from the ferry building along the water front and around the bay to Telegraph Hill. Between this and Russian Hill the valley is swept clean and the fire is now raging on all sides."

RICH BUT HAD TO SUFFER

Millionaire Singleton and Family Had a Rough Experience.

Among the refugees from San Francisco who found themselves stranded in this city today were John Singleton, a Los Angeles millionaire, his wife and her sister. The Singletons were staying at the Palace Hotel when the earthquake shock occurred on Wednesday morning. Mr. Singleton gives the following account of his experience:

"The shock wrecked the rooms in which we were sleeping. We managed to get our clothes on and get out immediately.

We had been at the hotel only two days, and left probably $3000 worth of personal effects in the room.

"After leaving the Palace, we secured an express wagon for $25 to take us to the Casino, near Golden Gate Park, where we stayed Wednesday night. On Thursday morning we managed to get a conveyance at an enormous cost, and spent the entire day in getting to the Palace. We paid a dollar apiece for eggs and a dollar for a loaf of bread. On these and a little ham we managed to satisfy our appetites. We reached Oakland last night on a ferry boat and are now trying to get back to Los Angeles."

Mr. Singleton, like thousands of other people in Oakland, found himself without funds this morning and as there are no banks open and none will be opened until Monday, had difficulty in securing cash until he met some one who knew him. The people who find themselves without money in Oakland today are numerous and all are having difficulty in securing cash owing to the banks and all big business houses being closed by proclamation of the Governor. Those who are unable to buy food, however, are being supplied by the local relief committees and by the various churches which are being thrown open to accommodate the homeless from across the bay.

CLIFF HOUSE IS STILL STANDING
SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—The report that the famous Cliff House had toppled into the sea cannot be verified, and is probably untrue. In the confusion it is impossible to get to it.

SWARM INTO BERKELEY Panic Stricken People From the City of Ashes Are Being Cared for in the College Town.

BERKELEY, April 20.—Fire refugees from the doomed city of San Francisco continue to come by the hundreds in this city. Every train is filled with the panic-stricken residents of the city that is now in ashes. They are fleeing for their lives, now that all their worldly goods have been utterly destroyed. Berkeley is looked upon as a haven of peace and rest from the terrible scenes and disasters in the doomed city.

GIVEN REFUGE.
Last night about 800 refugees were given shelter here, the Native Sons and the Y. M. C. A. giving accommodations to all who applied for shelter. These were taken care of this morning, given a breakfast and told they might consider this their home until they found other quarters. Many of these are both homeless and penniless. Scenes of the most pitiable sort are witnessed on all sides, but the quiet of this city and the general welcome extended to all the suffering in a large measure reassures those who have come here to escape the horrors of San Francisco.

The Berkeley Relief Committee was organized this morning under the general auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. Those composing the committee are Rev. E. L. Parsons, chairman; Duncan McDuffie, chairman of the Office Committee; E. J. Sill, chairman of the Provisions Committee. Headquarters have been established on the principal corner of the city where fleeing strangers may easily see them, and here the necessary information is given out to all who wish to know where they may turn to seek succor. Frank M. Wilson as chairman of the Finance Committee, has been receiving all the contributions in cash and orders for provisions; and to the present time over $3000 has been collected for this purpose.

HELP OFFERED.
Aside from this general committee all of the churches in the city have come forward with offers of help and have taken in hundreds of sufferers. The lodges, including the native Sons, Odd Fellows and the Elks are lending all their assistance. The local Y. M. C. A., the University Y. M. C. A., the University of Y. W. C. A., are all keeping open house in their homes and giving food and shelter to all that apply. The Y. W. C. A. and the Native Sons are devoting their time and energy to the relief of the women and children. The St. Mark's Parish is also opened as a refuge for women and children. Last night the Native Sons opened their hall to the homeless and supplied them with bedding for a night's rest. This morning they were given breakfast. The Y. M. C. A. of the town and the university did the same for the homeless men.

MILITARY CAMP.
A committee composed of Professor Elmer E. Brown, S. J. Sill and E. L. Corryell, are establishing a military camp in the open air, under the beautiful campus, where food is being prepared and served somewhat in military style to all the fire refugees. The camp is in the open under the beautiful live oaks which shade the campus, and the green sward of the University grounds has the appearance of a holiday picnic ground. The money for this work is being supplied by the contributions which are being made to the General Relief Committee.

The university cadets are taking an active part in the work of aiding the panic-stricken city of San Francisco. Company after company has been detailed to the city for guard duty and as guides to help those who wish to leave the city. They are directing such as wish to come, to go to this city. They have been acting under the orders of Captain Nance, commanding the university military department. President Benjamin Ide Wheeler gave the order that the University extend every possible aid in the relief of the panic-stricken people and refugees.

Hundreds of homes have been opened to the fire refugees. Those that can afford to be permitted to pay for their accommodations, but those that have lost all they had are given shelter. Every lodging house in this city was filled last night and today it is almost impossible to secure a vacant room. The fact that the shock of the earthquake was very light has given people confidence in security here.

MAY USE SCHOOLS.
BERKELEY, April 20.—The Berkeley Board of Education at a special meeting held in the Town Hall, voted unanimously to the Relief Committee the privilege of using the public schools of this city for hospital purposes and to house the refugees from San Francisco. Until such time as it can be learned just which school house will be utilized by the Relief Committee no definite plans for the opening of the schools will be made. If, however, it is not found necessary to use the school buildings, it is the intention to open as many schools as possible next Monday morning.

In event of not proving necessary to use the schoolhouses, the Board decided to move the commercial school to Wilkins Hall and to utilize the building occupied by the commercial pupils for the High School. Superintendent of Schools Waterman and President Weir were given full power to act in this and other matters pertaining to the opening or closing of any of the school buildings, and also to make necessary repairs. Besides the Commercial School building, it will also be necessary to use Superintendent Waterman's offices and the smaller buildings adjoining the schoolhouse to accommodate the great number of High School students.

OFFER CHURCH.
Rev. C. K. Jennings and trustees of the Trinity Methodist Church appeared before the School Board and offered the use of certain portions of the church edifice for the use of the school children. They were extended a vote of thanks and should it prove necessary to secure more room the school board will avail itself of the opportunity to house the school children.

Superintendent Waterman will be able to report soon whether the Relief Committee will require the school houses, at which time he will also announce what action will be taken toward resuming school work.

ARRANGE REGISTER.
BERKELEY, April 20.—A register has been arranged at the headquarters of the Relief Committee showing the place of refuge that the panic-stricken people of San Francisco have been housed. In case address is not given, the name of the refugee is noted. The list of names of these given board and lodging numbers nearly two hundred.

Interpreted with these names and addresses are to be found occasional queries and requests for persons to call at certain places, or to make their whereabouts known. These are given in order to further work the Relief Committee in helping to reunite families and friends who are separated, and are perhaps distressed by the fact that the ones they seek are among the lost. The list of names of these given board and lodging numbers nearly two hundred.

RELIEF BUREAU.
BERKELEY, April 20.—The G. A. R. and Ladies' Relief Corps have established a relief bureau for old veterans and their families at 2001 Haste street. Donations have been called for for this bureau and many articles of clothing and food have already been received. All Army men and their families have been extended an invitation to immediately report at this bureau upon arriving in Berkeley and they will be given food and shelter.

CITIZENS SWORN IN.
BERKELEY, April 20.—Realizing that in the rush of the townpeople to give aid to the sufferers from San Francisco a chance for lawlessness would be had in the general confusion, Marshall Volmer, the Town Marshal, has sworn in a number of citizens to provide for an adequate protection.

All the student cadets of the University of California who are not in San Francisco have been summoned by Captain Frank Bosc to report at the place of the relief bureau. Marshall Volmer, the Town Marshal, has sworn in a number of citizens to provide for an adequate protection.

All the student cadets of the University of California who are not in San Francisco have been summoned by Captain Frank Bosc to report at the place of the relief bureau. Marshall Volmer, the Town Marshal, has sworn in a number of citizens to provide for an adequate protection.

SPECIAL REQUEST.
A special request has been sent to the women of Berkeley to bake all the bread they possibly can, as there is a distressing bread famine on the other side of the bay. This is accounted for by the fact that all the bakeries that have been left standing are not allowed to build fires under their ovens on account of the danger of starting fires through damaged chimneys.

Medical attention for a large number of injured in the San Francisco earthquake and subsequent fire are being cared for in Berkeley. The local hospitals have been thrown open, and the medical men of the University team are bending every effort to alleviate the sufferings of the unfortunates.

Among those who are badly hurt was William Cunningham, whose skull was crushed in the collapsing walls of a hotel, and C. W. Harris, a lumberman, of 224 Howard street, San Francisco, who was badly burned about the head.

FIRE FIGHTER TELLS OF WORK

To THE TRIBUNE—Gentlemen: Please publish in your paper that we have saved 500 trunks, so those who left trunks in Union Square Park can notify us by messenger or by person. Dr. J. P. Lasas and myself staid in Union Square when all others had left and saved all trunks and bedding that it was possible to save.

There would have been more trunks saved had it not been for the bedding that was in each lot of trunks. Sparks ignited blankets and so destroyed a great many trunks. All is quiet here at Union Square Park, which place is probably the safest place in the city. If some one will send tarpaulins or canvas to the extent of 15,000 square feet we can keep things dry from rain—that is, if it should rain, and also it would cover a great many people from the sun.

So far we have plenty of food to last for a couple of days, as the people have no chance of coming down to the place we once called town. Would like to have a couple of good cooks sent over. For their services we would pay well if they would not volunteer. At present we are located around Dewey's monument, and as long as the rain holds off are all O. K. In this square we have had no death as yet.

NOT SAFE FOR TEAMS.
Everything is gutted around here and it is not safe for teams to come here as yet, as walls are tumbling down right along. If the S. P. will kindly let any one come back that I send over, would be able to get all the provisions necessary until crowd started to come in. In regard to rain that might come I do not think it a bad proposition to send over all the tents that could be sent.

Water is none too plentiful, and not as good as it might be. Ruins around us look like pictures of ancient Rome. At the time of this writing St. Francis building is burning and smoke is coming this way. This makes the atmosphere very dry, hence people are thirsty.

In the first mother and I came as near losing our lives as was possible. We were in my home on Montgomery street, near the Merchants' Exchange, when the roof partially fell and we were almost completely buried by the falling of the roof and bricks from wall. So we thank Providence that our lives were spared. Therefore I came back to Union Square when all others had left, saved all that I could possibly save of trunks and bedding and did not make any attempt to save piles of cash registers and typewriters, etc., that were the property of some firm.

AS FROM THE DEAD.
After fighting for three or four hours Dr. Lassen appeared on the scene, coming out of ruins where I thought no living soul could exist, and then we continued our fight and have been at it up to now.

Seems as though we were camping out, except for the awful surroundings. Columns of brick and stone are still standing.

We are witnessing fire which seems to be about Van Ness avenue. Marines handled crowds to the best of their ability, which was enough to clear buildings of all tenants as the fire gradually wended its way towards the Cliff House.

St. Francis stands out in all its splendor with the exception of dark holes where windows once were.

Although having lost everything with the exception of a couple of trunks, I am more than thankful of having been spared to do what little good I have done and what may still remain to be done.

Everything is being done that can possibly be done. When houses on Kearny street were burning I passed by a bird store and carried all the canaries and parrots that I could to Union Square. So we have rabbits, cats and birds here. We are getting water to drink from somewhere near the Mint. Yours, etc.,

A. P. HASKINS.

KANSAS CITY, April 20.—The Manufacturers' and Merchants' Association of this city last night telegraphed the mayor of San Francisco that it was arranging to send two carloads of provisions free of charge to the homeless people of the stricken city and the provisions will be sent as soon as Mayor Schmitz is heard from.

A movement is on foot among the local Shriners to abandon the convalescence of the order to be held at Los Angeles May 8, and the money which would be spent by the delegates to that meeting, estimated at $150,000, be given to San Francisco.

Mayor Boardley last night received a telegram from the governor of California stating that the people of San Francisco are in sore distress and asking that the people of Kansas City send a trainload of provisions immediately. Mayor Boardley called a meeting of the leading business men of the city and a plan was devised by which the train could be furnished and sent to San Francisco with the greatest expedition.

The business men of Kansas City last night subscribed $10,000 for the San Francisco sufferers and an effort will be made to increase the amount to $20,000 by Saturday.

DAMAGE DONE IN HUMBOLDT COUNTY

HUREKA, Cal., April 20.—The earthquake Wednesday did considerable damage throughout Humboldt county. There was no loss of life at Eureka. There were, however, several large buildings wrecked and damage to a large amount from breaking of windows and falling chimneys. The public buildings were unharmed. At Ferndale two brick store buildings collapsed besides several frame structures.

DENVER, April 20.—A special to the Times from Trinidad, Col., says:

Mount Capulin, an extinct volcano, situated eight miles from Folsom, N. M., sixty miles from here, is said to be emitting smoke and heat from a fissure broken in its side by two distinct earthquake shocks, which were felt this morning.

The mountain is 12,000 feet high and trees grow to the mouth of the crater and also on the side of it. It is of volcanic formation. It has not been in eruption for years. It is said that the heat coming from the fissure is melting the snow on the top of the mountain.

EDDIE SMITH DESCRIBES HORRORS OF THE RUINS

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT MAKES APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Roosevelt, after a conference with Miss Mabel Boardman of the American National Red Cross, today issued in the form of a proclamation, an appeal to the American people for aid for the people of San Francisco. He asked that all contributions be made through the officials of the American National Red Cross, who have effected systematic arrangements for the distribution of the needed assistance.

The full text of the President's proclamation follows: "In the face of so terrible and appalling a national calamity as that which has befallen San Francisco, the outpouring of the nation's aid should, as far as possible, be entrusted to the National Red Cross, the national organization best to undertake such relief work. A specially appointed Red Cross agent, Dr. Edward Divine, starts today from New York for California to co-operate there with the Red Cross branch in the work of relief.

"In order that this work may be well systematized, and in order that the contributions which I am sure will flow in with lavish generosity, may be wisely administered, I appeal to the people of the United States, to all cities, Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, relief committees and individuals to express their sympathy and render their aid by contributions to the American National Red Cross. They can be sent to Charles H. Hallam, keep, Red Cross Treasurer, Washington; Jacob H. Schiff, New York Red Cross Treasurer, and other local Red Cross treasurers, to be forwarded by telegram from Washington to the Red Cross agents and officers in California.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

FEW ARE FOUND DEAD IN CITY OF SAN JOSE

SACRAMENTO, April 20.—C. M. Leach, who has just made a complete circuit of the earthquake devastated districts around the bay, including San Jose, Alviso, Niles and Alameda, has arrived in Sacramento and has given the following review of the catastrophe as he viewed it from the automobile in which the tour was made.

"After as thorough an examination of the ruins in San Francisco as could be made by him, Professor Durant, an eminent engineer of Stanford, returned to the university today. He made the statement that the shock was much greater in Palo Alto and vicinity than around the devastated city.

"All telegraphic communication with the bay cities is cut off. Yesterday morning Professor Durant and Professor Green, accompanied by myself, started for Sacramento in an automobile, carrying over 400 telegrams to be sent to friends and relatives in the East and abroad.

"The roads around the bay were slightly injured in places by fissures but no serious faulting of the underlying rock was observed.

"At San Jose the loss of life is not as great as was at first reported, only sixteen dead being reported up to date. The Vendome Annex is completely ruined, as well as the courthouse and all brick and stone structures.

"From San Jose to Alviso the road is lowered in places by the shock and the front of the principal hotel at Alviso has sunk at least ten feet. Beyond Alviso toward Niles the road is in very good shape and the only signs of the shock are tumbled down fences and water tanks.

"Hayward is in very good shape comparatively, the only damage being confined to glass and brick stacks.

"President Jordan, in an address to the students after the disaster, asked them to remain at Stanford and help clear the debris. He thinks the university will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

"Though he was recently tendered the presidency of an Eastern university, he will remain with Stanford. He said that a university does not depend entirely upon its buildings."

REV. BAKER CALLS FOR BLANKETS

The most horrible imaginings conceivable to the human mind would fall far short of giving an impression of the terrible suffering endured by those unfortunate who last night in San Francisco were moving a block at a time, dragging trunks and carrying what few articles could be saved. Every possible means of conveyance was used to move the homeless to open parks and empty lots where the fire could not reach them.

The hill at the Market-street cut, where Guerrero street comes in, was crowded by people with a few belongings, and in the light of the flames the place resembled an ant hill, with thousands of ants moving to and fro. There was not one foot of open space on the hill. With the fire not more than a block away and the marine corps blasting the buildings in close proximity with cans of giant powder, the women became hysterical and children screamed. There was not a drop of water to be had and the parched lips and sunken eyes told a story of terrible suffering.

On the south side of Market street, where so many poor families were burned out, was the scene of the most wretched suffering. The fire came from one frame building to another so rapidly that the people had no chance to get a particle of food or clothing from their homes. Most of these were blown black by smoke by the flames across the Potrero bridge at Fourth street. Once across the bridge they were not allowed to come back to get any more belongings who had lost their families in the rush for safety were little less than insane.

At Eleventh and Harrison streets, where a large cannery had burned, thousands were carrying away canned goods that had not been so badly damaged as to be unsalable. The much could not be said in praise of the bravery of the firemen and soldiers and sailors of the army and navy. In these desperate moments the fire with unflinching courage. The sailors of the government had charge of the blasting, and while one crew was blowing up buildings on one side of the street another crew was at work on the building opposite.

TERRIFIC FALL.

When the Franklin Hotel on Market street, working on the buildings opposite was almost crushed to death by the fall of this seven-story building. Undaunted, the crew tried to reach the fire they went bravely on blasting, however.

The blowing down of the buildings without the aid of water seemed a waste, for the flames leaped over the ruins as quickly as they reached them. In the scramble to get moved to a place of safety every possible conveyance was brought into use. At one residence the people broke open a livey stable and dragged a hearse out, and after breaking the glass out of the sides, jammed their belongings into it and on the top. They were unable to get horses and had to push and pull it over the hills toward Golden Gate Park.

Any kind of a vehicle that could carry a few pieces of furniture was in demand at $20 a lead for a distance of probably two blocks, while an express wagon was a luxury at $50 a lead.

On the north side of Market street, below Dupont, but just above, as was "Barney Coast," where the most hardened people in the city lived, one could see hardened faces that a tear had been a stranger to for years. Standing spell-bound on the sidewalks and in the streets with tears streaming down their faces.

EFFECT OF LIQUOR.

In the section of the city below this where the distilleries were located most every one was drunk and even in the face of life and death were quarreling and fighting with one another.

Never was the curse of intoxicating liquors so much evidence. Babies and small children were left by drunken parents to shift for themselves, and most of them made their way to Telegraph hill, which seemed to be the only place of safety for them.

The old frame buildings on the south side of Market street and those that were built on the filled in ground below Montgomery street were all wrecked by the quake before the fire reached them, and the number of dead in the transient lodging-houses will never be known.

The street in some places was bulged up in rolls that resembled waves on the bay a foot high, and in places the heavy rails of the electric roads were warped up two feet high. In fact, every indication showed that the quake was felt in the lower end of the city ten fold more than in the Western part, where the houses were on solid foundations.

San Francisco would have recovered from the loss by the quake in a short time, as most of the new buildings stood the shake well. The Flood building, the Mills building, the Merchants Exchange and Hayward buildings were all left in good condition. They were destroyed by fire, however, and are now in ruins.

SULLIVAN'S LOSS.

The impossibility of getting water was the cause of the greatest disaster and the fact that Chief Sullivan was so badly hurt by the falling in of the Bush-street fire house left the Fire Department without a head. It seemed the consensus of opinion among the firemen that Sullivan at the helm the fire would have been fought with far greater success.

Oakland is now crowded with refugees, as every one wants to come here, but owing to the density of the smoke and fire and difficulty in moving to the ferries.

Provisions in route

EFFORTS AT FRUITVALE

FRUITVALE, April 20.—The citizens of Fruitvale are organized for relief purposes.

At the call of the Board of Trade a meeting of nearly one hundred citizens was held on the Derby open lots on Fruitvale avenue Thursday.

E. H. Marwedel was elected president and George J. Hans secretary and treasurer. Three hundred dollars in cash were raised in a few minutes.

Six rigs for moving baggage were put at the service of the relief organization. The use of two unoccupied five-room cottages were put at its service; and twenty-five carpenters, under the lead of Urban A. Lewis, erected Union High School trustees at the recent election, volunteered their services free to do any building necessary.

Within three hours the following accommodations were provided: Place for twenty families was found on Liles avenue; the Mercantile Hall was thrown open for service as a lodging place; twenty tents had been received from Alameda at Governor Farabee's order, and were pitched on the Derby property at the corner of Fruitvale avenue and the southern Pacific railroad; a free restaurant was opened at Jenkins' by the relief committee; and the fire engine house was also used as a lodging place and restaurant.

Independently, and yet in touch with the general organization, the King's Daughters opened Armory Hall, with burlap cutting up a good portion of it into some 15 rooms, filled it with cots and bedding, and started the kitchen going, an abundance of home-made supplies being on hand immediately from homes. Mr. Hansen was a wonderful help to the ladies. A tent was pitched in the yard adjoining the Congregational Church grounds and occupied by many. There was no color line; assistance was extended to all alike.

On Wednesday C. Lefebvre, the local publisher, formerly of San Francisco, went over there and rescued a woman with a baby but seven days old. Thursday he went again and got another with a baby but four days old. The people in both cases are doing well. Twenty-two people are now being cared for at his home.

REGISTRATION.

As fast as the refugees arrive at Fruitvale station they are taken in hand by a reception committee, of which J. Hagaberg is chairman, are sent to register at the Board of Trade rooms, headquarters of the relief organization, where name, occupation and previous residence are recorded, and the wants of the parties are properly attended to. The relief officers there, E. H. Marwedel and George J. Hans, assisted by F. H. Sealey, were on duty there last evening, and will continue to be so long as necessary, until midnight.

Deputy constables, a number of whom were sworn in for the occasion, escort the people to their places.

The relief organization has purchased a large supply of groceries, and is providing in some way for the wants of all.

The Union High School has been closed until Monday, and Prof. Rosseter is actively engaged in the work of relief.

The various committees of the relief organization are:

Captain Sealey said he would keep the tug going all day.

HOLLISTER DAMAGED

A two-story brick building adjoining the Hartmann Hotel collapsed, burying a family of six persons, all of whom were rescued in an injured condition. All of the towns passed through coming north presented scenes of excitement and confusion. At Gilroy the shock was not so severe, yet many buildings were down, but no lives were reported lost. Pando-monium reigned in San Jose.

A fire broke out in the business center, but the fire department held it well in hand. Bricks and stone buildings were torn from their foundations and thrown in all directions. Palo Alto presented the same scene, and at Redwood City the recently finished Coliseum was a complete ruin, the great tower sitting amid the crumbling brick and stones. The railroad track approaching the city was twisted and the earth was sunken and cracked to such an extent that no trains were permitted to pass. Miles came north and no trains have been dispatched from Third and Townsend.

BOATLOAD BY SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash., April 20.—The Seattle City Council has voted to appropriate $10,000 for the San Francisco sufferers. Through the Chamber of Commerce, Seattle has subscribed $40,000. Kubicki, the violinist, will return to Seattle Saturday morning to give a benefit performance.

The steamship Blackman has been chartered by the citizens' committee to carry supplies to San Francisco from Seattle.

MANY RECORDS ARE PRESERVED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Much at least of the valuable paper of the Union Trust Company of San Francisco has probably been saved. When it was seen that the building must go, it was taken from the upper vaults to the main vault in the cellar, and the cellar filled with water. The building was then dynamited and the debris covers the water-encased vaults.

BUCKLED.

On Van Ness avenue between Union and Filbert streets, the street, including the underground pipes, was literally buckled over upon itself. Valencia street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth, was affected the same way. At both places in early days there had been ravines, and the land was made.

HORRIBLE CONDITIONS AT THE ASYLUM AT AGNEWS

Dr. Clark, superintendent of the County Hospital, has telephoned here concerning the condition at the Agnews Insane Asylum near San Jose.

He says that eleven officials and employees of the institution were killed and twenty injured. Among those killed were Drs. Kelly and Gell. Fifty-five of the inmates were killed and a hundred and twenty injured. All of the buildings were completely wrecked. Tents were set up in the grounds of the institution where the patients are being cared for the best way possible.

Dr. Clark went to Agnews in an automobile, taking four nurses from the County Hospital, and assisted in organizing relief measures at Agnews.

A temporary building is being constructed for the housing of the injured and as well as the un injured patients.

Dr. Clark reports everything quiet and that the officials have the situation fairly in hand.

ANOTHER REPORT.

Up to noon Thursday 103 bodies had been taken out of Agnews State Hospital, near Santa Clara. Official estimates place the number of injured insane patients at 207, and of these thirty were not expected to live.

The main building of the hospital collapsed, pinning many of the patients under fallen walls and debris.

The padded cells had to be broken open and the dangerous maniacs were tied to trees out on the lawn, in lieu of a safer place. The doctors and nurses stuck heroically to their posts and 100 students from Santa Clara college went over in a body to assist in succoring the wounded. Brother de Martini, infirmarian of the college, did wonderful work in giving first aid to the injured, as did Dr. Gerlach of San Jose, the county physician, who later collapsed. Drs. Sapp and Wright of San Jose are assisting the hospital staff.

Very little damage was done to the buildings at Santa Clara college, and not one of the students or priests were injured.

The damage will approximate $4,000,000. The books, collections and apparatus are not greatly damaged.

"This message, together with 400 private messages from the University community are sent from Sacramento as all telegraphic communication to Palo Alto and all around the bay is cut off."

BIO APPROPRIATION HAS BEEN SIGNED

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Vice-president Fairbanks signed the California relief resolution, appropriating $1,000,000, at 9:10 o'clock yesterday and it was at once sent to the White House.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY

SACRAMENTO, April 20.—The following signed statement sent out for the Associated Press by President Jordan arrived here last night:

"The earthquake did great damage to the buildings of Stanford University. Only two lives were lost, one a student named J. R. Hanna, of Berkeley, Pa.; the other, a fireman, Hans Stron. Eight students were injured, none seriously. The buildings wrecked are the Memorial Church, the new library, the gymnasium, the memorial arch and the power house.

"Many buildings of the outer quadrangle are seriously damaged as well as some of the shops. The chemistry building, and Endicott Hall, the inner quadrangle are practically un injured."

ALL THE SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS ARE SAFE

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Treasury Department has so far failed to locate the assistant treasurer or deputy at San Francisco, and grave fears are entertained that they have lost their lives. The only person connected with the Sub-Treasury who has been heard from is J. H. McClure, an assistant bookkeeper. He has wired Secretary Shaw from Oakland under yesterday's date as follows:

"San Francisco completely destroyed by fire following earthquake. Sub-Treasury burned yesterday afternoon. Under difficulty reached wreck of building this morning. Vaults appear intact. Found no guards. Finally communicated with General Funston and secured detail of one company of soldiers. Unable to locate assistant treasurer and therefore acted on own responsibility. Chaotic conditions. Mint building and vaults safe. Please arrange with Secretary of War for military protection to treasury vault."

Secretary Shaw has wired the Superintendent of the Mint and also General Funston for information as to what, if any, national or private banks are in a position to do business and to suggest means of relief.

CHINATOWN HAS BEEN COMPLETELY DESTROYED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Chinatown was destroyed completely. It is estimated that at least twenty Chinese, opium fiends and drunks were blown up with dynamite.

BRAVE WORK OF DODGE

There have been many acts of heroism in this awful catastrophe that have stirred the blood, but none will ever forget the brave work of E. H. Dodge, son of the owner of the E. J. Dodge Company, a shipping firm. With his coasting steam schooner, the Vanguard, he removed over 22,000 people from San Francisco, running alongside the wharves in the terror-stricken city.

Three trips he made across the bay carrying hundreds of lives with him, and every time Captain Oland, the master, put his human cargo on the Oakland docks in safety.

In San Francisco, young Dodge stood on the wharves at the landing places and personally conducted the homeless aboard the steamer. He invited them all, impressing upon them that they would be taken across the bay without a cent's cost.

His wife and friend, Mrs. Curtis, were aboard and saw to it personally that the food which Dodge had provided was distributed.

On the last trip of the Vanguard the schooner Annie Marie, loaded to the guards with refugees, was found drifting in midstream. The Vanguard was put about and ran alongside the drifting scow, a line was thrown to her and she was towed to the foot of Broadway street in this city.

DANGEROUS SANITARY CONDITIONS PREVAIL

A well known local engineer says the greatest damage San Francisco has now to encounter is a pestilence that is likely to be caused by the complete breaking up of the sewerage system. The entire drainage system is a ruin, and disastrous results are likely to occur unless speedy steps are taken to provide ways for domestic filth. It is estimated that 50,000 people are camped in Golden Gate Park and vicinity and nearly as many more at the Presidio. The danger of this vast huddle of people breeding disease is apparent, said the engineer above quoted. He recommends that vigorous sanitary means be taken to prevent contagion.

FLOATING OIL CATCHES FIRE

ALAMEDA, April 20.—A large quantity of oil, floating on the bay in the rear of the Alameda Sanitarium and the Gutsch residence, took fire this morning, and for a long time it was feared the conflagration would prove disastrous.

After several hours' hard work, however, the blaze was quenched with no particular damage.

DAY OF HOPE DAWNS FOR SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—San Francisco's darkest hour has dawned. Fire there has been extinguished. The into a day of hope. Its time of overwhelming disaster and peril has ended and its future is now a subject of general consideration. The fire is practically under control. A clear sky over the Mission district shows that the spread of the flames toward the Western Addition, the best part of the city remaining, has been stayed and the only portion of the conflagration that demands the attention of the firemen is that extending from the Nob Hill section down to the northwestern part of the water front. The Western Addition danger was averted at 2:30 this morning by the use of gun cotton, dynamite and two streams of water. The explosives were handled by the chief gunner of the Mare Island Navy Yard, and his accomplishments proved him to be a master of his profession.

WORK OF RELIEF.

The work of relief was started early today. A big bakery in the saved district started its fires and 150,000 loaves will be baked before night. Thousands of people were in line this morning before the California street bakery. The police and military were present in force and each person was allowed only one loaf.

The homeless people in the parks and vacant lots will be provided for today as speedily as possible.

The destitution and suffering is indescribable. Women and children who had comfortable homes a few days ago slept last night, if sleep came at all, on the wharves, on the sand lots near North Beach, some of them under little tents made of sheeting, which poorly protected them from the chilling ocean winds. The people in the parks are possibly better provided in the matter of shelter, for they left their homes better prepared.

INSTRUCTIONS.

Instructions were issued by Mayor Schmitt today to break open every store containing provisions and to distribute the goods under police supervision. The Young Men's Hebrew Association, near Golden Gate Park, has been stocked with provisions for the use of needy victims in the adjacent fields.

Both the Mayor and Chief of Police Dinan when asked for statements by the Associated Press this morning expressed themselves as thankful that the fire was virtually controlled. Chief Dinan said that the order of the city astonished him. He thought it due to the earlier severe measures taken by the soldiers and police in shooting down offenders.

Two men were shot and killed this morning. Policeman Flood, upon entering his home, encountered a stranger, who attacked him. Flood shot him to death.

Special Policeman Snyder also killed a man but the details are not known. The only bank in the huge ruined district that escaped destruction was the Market Street bank at the corner of Seventh and Market streets. It is in the gutted Grand building, but the firemen saved the ground floor. It will pay out money just as soon as it hears from the clearing house officials.

THE CORNER.

A corner of the city near the Pacific Mail wharves at Second and Brannan was not burned, and the Ballou's Home is intact.

The fire now burning is all east of Van Ness avenue and north of California street. It will burn itself out to the North Beach water front.

The Postal Telegraph Company today restored connection with the Orient by establishing a station at the ocean beach, but there is no service yet for delivering messages there.

Thousands of members of families are separated ignorant of one another's whereabouts, and without means of ascertaining.

BUREAU OPENED.

The police today opened up a bureau of registration to bring relatives together. It is impossible to secure a vehicle except at extortionate prices. One merchant yesterday engaged a teamster and horse and wagon, agreeing to pay $50 an hour. Charges of $20 for carrying trunks a few blocks were common. The police and military seize teams whenever they require them, their wishes being enforced at revolver point if the owner proves indisposed to comply with the demands.

Mayor Schmitt looked weary this morning but he was energetically at work at his desk, having had little or no sleep.

A policeman this morning reported that two grocery stores in the neighborhood were closed although the clerks were present. "Smash the stores open," ordered the mayor, "and guard them."

FIEND IS SHOT DOWN

Yesterday morning at 3 o'clock in front of the Spreckels Market, a teamster named McDonald detected a fiend in the act of cutting off the heavily jeweled finger of a corpse. McDonald struck the ghoul over the head with the stock of his whip. The fiend showed fight and a sentry of the regular army took a hand in the affair, with the result that the fiend was shot.

ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL.

St. Mary's Cathedral on Van Ness avenue was still standing at an early hour this morning. Yesterday afternoon the wooden part of the tower near the top was noticed to be in flames. The chief of the fire-fighters who were engaged in that vicinity called for volunteers to climb the tower to extinguish the flames by bailing them out, because it was impossible to reach them with water. Twenty men responded, and among them was a man named Dougherty, who climbed the tower and succeeded in bailing out a blaze, which, had it not been arrested, would soon have resolved the structure into ashes. After accomplishing this work he reached into the belfry and tolled the bell for the many unfortunate and the many brave who had died as the result of the great fire.

This morning, the postoffice was still standing, although on fire in certain places.

The California monument erected in City Hall Park by James Lick was also standing this morning, and in good condition.

PRISONERS SAFE.

The Broadway jail followed the Hall of Justice in ruins. All the prisoners were under felonious charges and were transferred to the military prison at Alcatraz, when it became apparent that the jail could not be saved.

USING DYNAMITE.

It is said that the dynamiting of buildings was done under the direction of John Birmingham, of the Giant Powder Works at Pinole, but that objection was made to some feature of the work by government officers, and that the latter last night took possession of 500 boxes of the explosive to prevent further use of it.

Telegraph Hill is on fire from Broadway to Filbert.

The Western Addition from Waller to Geary and from Gough street west, has thus far been free from fire.

MILLION RATIONS ON THE WAY

GOOD WORK IS BEING DONE BY THE GOVERNMENT.

NEW YORK, April 20.—A Western Union operator, who made a tour of the city with a military escort last night sent the following dispatch today:

"The thousands who spent last night out of doors were fairly comfortable, most of them being sheltered by tents. Considerable distress, however, was caused by a heavy fog which came up during the night and also by dew."

"Chinamen are in evidence about the ferry house by the thousands, all of them waiting anxiously to get out of the city, and all of them carrying big bundles."

"The principal food of those who remain in the city is composed of canned goods, and crackers. The refugees who succeeded in getting out of San Francisco, are met as soon as they enter the neighboring towns by representatives of bakers, who have made large supplies of bread and who immediately hand them out to the hungry people."

SUISUN ACTS PROMPTLY

SUISUN, Cal., April 20, 1906.—To the Oakland Tribune, Oakland: The Women's Improvement Club of Suisun and the Suisun Board of Trade organized a relief committee last evening and gathered a large launch load of provisions before midnight. The boat with committee started for San Francisco at 7:30 this morning. The committee will continue to collect and forward supplies to the sufferers.

But little damage in Suisun. Railroad company's 80,000-gallon water tank destroyed but engines are supplied from fire hydrant near depot. This was about only damage.

The sinks on Suisun marshes are in good condition. None were seriously damaged by earthquake, reports being greatly exaggerated.

Many fire refugees arrived here from San Francisco on all trains Thursday. Many people were out on streets here last night watching glare of light from fire in San Francisco, 80 miles distant.

"EDWARD DINKELSPIEL"

FAINTING SPELLS

CAUSED BY WEAK CONDITION OF THE BLOOD.

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the Remedy Which Actually Makes New Blood.

Impoverished blood is the cause of many troubles that are not recognized as arising from it. Impoverishment of the blood may originate from overstudy, lack of exercise, anxiety or worry, or it may follow an acute disease such as fever, or even result from a cold. Physicians term impoverished blood "anemia," which is a Greek word meaning "too little blood."

Anemia makes the patient short of breath so that there is often a sense of suffocation, sometimes there is a cough and the sufferer seems to be going into consumption, at others there is a murmur of the heart and heart disease is feared. In the following case severe fainting spells were an alarming symptom resulting from "too little blood."

Mrs. George Forrester, of 7 Curtis street, Watertown, N. Y., says: "Some time ago I took a heavy cold and it left me in a very weak condition. I became worse and worse until finally I had anemia. I lost flesh and appetite, had no color and was subject to fainting spells. Sometimes they would attack me suddenly and I would fall to the floor with hardly any warning."

"I had one of our best physicians, but after he had been attending me about a month, without any improvement in my condition, I decided to see what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills would do for me."

"The pills were well known to me for, about two years before, members of my family had taken them with the best results. I soon found that the pills were just what I needed for I soon began to notice an improvement. After I had taken them a while longer I was entirely cured, and we all believe in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and recommend them highly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured Mrs. Forrester because they actually make new blood. They do that one thing and they do it well. Impoverished blood is deficient in red corpuscles, little bodies in the blood only to be seen through the microscope, which carry nourishment to all parts of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills increase the number of these red corpuscles and in this way send health and strength to every tissue. Medical authorities are agreed that the health of the nervous system depends directly upon the red corpuscles in the blood and in this way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many nervous disorders, as well as blood diseases that have not yielded to ordinary treatment.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

MEXICO SENDS HER SYMPATHY

EL PASO, Texas, April 20.—The following message was received this morning by Consul Allen of Mexico:

"City of Mexico, April 20.—Please express to the people of the United States my most profound regret at the terrible catastrophe which has befallen San Francisco. All Mexico sympathizes with the stricken city and people."

Schilling's Best is the standard by which other tea and coffee are judged.

SANTA ROSA STORIES EXAGGERATED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20.—Santa Rosa Controller E. P. Colgan, who is at his old home town, Santa Rosa, telegraphed that stories from that place have been greatly exaggerated. The public and business buildings are wrecked, but the residence portion is only slightly damaged. Forty people were killed in the business part of town, but no one was injured in the residence section.

GREAT FIRE IN SAN FRANCISCO IS OUT

ONE-FOURTH OF THE CITY IS SAVED

been wiped away, and the firemen believe that it is only a matter of hours before the walls crumble.

BATTERED AND SCARRED.

Of the Hotel Marie Antoinette but a few bricks arise from a heap of ashes. St. Mary's Cathedral is battered and scarred, and the First Unitarian Church just around the corner is very seriously damaged. A few blocks farther down the boulevard a heap of charred ruins marks the spot where St. Ignatius Church and the Jesuits' College stood. St. Dominic's Church has been wrenched out of all knowing, and of the Episcopal Church on Van Ness avenue not a stone remains.

VAN NESS AVENUE.

In no portion of San Francisco is the vagaries of the temblor registered as on Van Ness avenue. Down towards the bay the houses facing on this beautiful boulevard have been twisted like corkscrews, and the pavement is filled with gaps several feet wide and many feet deep.

Near Union street the bitumen has been converted into a series of waves. Closer to the military reservation the effect of the shake upon the earth is even more apparent. Several grades were distinctly changed.

HUNGRY ARE FED.

At least 20,000 people are in camp on the slopes to the military reservation. They are in a very good location, for the earth is dry there and they are within easy reach of the troops, who distribute the coffee, bread, beans, soups and canned stuffs to the homeless.

Thus far the work of distribution has been very successful. Today, over 50,000 loaves of bread were given away, and all those seeking coffee were provided. In many sections butcher shops were open and all who cared to build small fires to cook the meat were permitted to do so.

INJURED AT THE HOSPITAL

The injured from San Francisco are finding their way to the Receiving Hospital here and are keeping the doctors and attendants busy. Many whose wounds have received no attention have been given great relief. Those treated today are:

GOVERNOR ASKS FOR SQUADRON.

Governor Pardee at noon today wired President Roosevelt, asking him to send the Pacific Squadron to San Francisco, with all possible speed, in order that the marines may help the unfortunate sufferers, and also that the supplies of the squadron may be used for the relief of the needy.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20, 3:15 p. m.—The great fire which has laid one-fourth of San Francisco in ruins, has been extinguished. The flames were extinguished at three o'clock this afternoon, after the fire-fighters had practically exhausted all resources. Only a few minor blazes now show.

MAYOR SCHMITZ' APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE

"MAYOR'S OFFICE, SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., APRIL 20, 1906.—TO THE CITIZENS OF SAN FRANCISCO: THE FIRE IS NOW UNDER CONTROL AND ALL DANGER IS PASSED. THE ONLY FEAR IS THAT OTHER FIRES MAY START SHOULD THE PEOPLE BUILD FIRES IN THEIR STOVES, AND THEREFORE WARN ALL CITIZENS NOT TO BUILD FIRES IN THEIR HOMES UNTIL THE CHIMNEYS HAVE BEEN INSPECTED AND REPAIRED PROPERLY. ALL CITIZENS ARE URGED TO DIS-

COUNTENANCE THE BUILDING OF FIRES.

"I CONGRATULATE THE CITIZENS OF SAN FRANCISCO UPON THE FORTITUDE THEY HAVE DISPLAYED, AND I URGE UPON THEM THE NECESSITY OF AIDING THE AUTHORITIES IN THE WORK OF RELIEVING THE DISTRESS AND SUFFERING FOR THE RELIEF OF THOSE PERSONS WHO ARE ENCAPED IN THE VARIOUS SECTIONS OF THE CITY, EVERYTHING POSSIBLE IS BEING DONE. IN GOLDEN GATE

PARK, WHERE THERE ARE APPROXIMATELY 200,000 HOMELESS PERSONS. RELIEF STATIONS HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED. THE SPRING VALLEY WATER COMPANY HAS INFORMED ME THAT THE MISSION DISTRICT WILL BE SUPPLIED WITH WATER THIS AFTERNOON, BETWEEN TEN AND TWELVE MILLION OF GALLONS DAILY BEING AVAILABLE. LAKE MERCED WILL BE TAKEN BY THE FEDERAL TROOPS AND THAT SUPPLY PROTECTED.

"H. E. SCHMITZ, Mayor."

SITUATION IS HOURLY GROWING HOPEFUL

The situation is hourly growing more hopeful, but it is imperative that the citizens of Oakland should be reasonable and conservative.

Impossible conditions should not be exacted.

Relief in abundance is hurrying here from every quarter, but there is a scarcity of money for immediate circulation, owing to the fact that every bank in San Francisco and Oakland is closed. The contents of every bank vault are safe, however, and there is no reason to question the solvency of any reputable banking concern.

But patience and reason must prevail till the temporary financial stringency is removed. As soon as the heads of the principal financial institutions have agreed upon a line of action, the banks of this city will be opened and an abundance of money provided for immediate necessities. In the meantime it is demanding the impossible to ask men to dig in the safe deposit vaults or cash checks and drafts.

Already the community is feeling the reviving throb of hope and activity.

No one doubts the speedy rebuilding of San Francisco, and it is self-evident that Oakland has even a more glorious future for it than the most sanguine of her citizens have hitherto imagined. The building boom is going ahead with increased activity and the business expansion will surpass all records. All that is necessary now is to work, keep cool and act with discriminating judgment in the light of abnormal conditions.

It can be authoritatively stated that the banks will all stand together in standing by the State, and the public should stand by the banks and by the general interests.

MASONS TO HELP BROTHERS

The Masonic lodges throughout the United States are ready to aid in the alleviation of the distress of their brethren and to this end Grand Master of Masons of California Motley G. Flint arrived here from Los Angeles today, accompanied by Grand Orator Oscar Lawler.

"Telegrams are pouring in from all over the country," said Flint this afternoon. "Here is a sample:

"Vicksburg, Miss., April 18, 1906.—Grand Master Blum tenders sympathy and assistance to the extent of Mississippi's resources."

Continuing he said: "I have come here to get in touch with masters of all the local lodges. We propose through our organization to perfect quickly a system of general relief. The order that I represent is with the sufferers and ready to act nobly.

"There will be a meeting of the masters of all local lodges this afternoon and a system of registration begun at once."

Mr. Flint is postmaster of Los Angeles and his address will be in care of Postmaster T. T. Dargie of this city.

RESOLUTION THAT WAS GREAT FUND IS RAISED IN PASSED BY CONGRESS

How the Relief Bill Was Passed in the House and Senate of the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Mr. Secretary of Commerce and Labor, Tawney (Minnesota) from the Committee on Appropriations yesterday moved the following substitute to the Senate joint resolution making appropriation for the San Francisco sufferers.

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the Secretary of War is hereby authorized and is directed to provide in open market or otherwise subsistence and quartermasters supplies in addition to the supplies belonging to the military establishment, and available and issue the same to such destitute persons as have been rendered homeless or are in needy circumstances, as a result of the earthquake which occurred April 18th and the attending conflagration and executing this joint resolution the Secretary of War is directed to co-operate with the authorities of the State of California and the Mayors of the cities of San Francisco Berkeley Oakland Alameda and such other cities on the Pacific Coast as may have suffered damage. Be it further

"Resolved That the Secretary of the Treasury of the Navy and the are hereby directed to co-operate with the Secretary of War in extending relief and assistance to the stricken people herein referred to the extent of the use of the naval vessels, revenue cutters and other vessels and give supplies under their control on the Pacific coast

"Resolved, That to enable the Secretary of War to execute the provisions of this joint resolution there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of $1,000,000 to be expended under the direction and in the discretion of the Secretary of War."

Mr. Tawney explained that the larger sum was absolutely needed that secretaries of other departments were included, that naval vessels, cutters and the Fish Commission boat Albatross could be used

The resolution was adopted at 2:30 within ten minutes of its being reported

The substitute was reported on the ground that the amount should be doubled and that the Secretary of War should be relieved from any statutory provision requiring that bids be secured for the needed supplies

STEEL FRAMES STAND EARTHQUAKES BEST

The Baltimore fire vindicated the resistant qualities of the steel frame skyscraper when assailed by fire. Of all forms of construction it proved itself the safest and most enduring.

The experience of San Francisco demonstrated that the steel frame building withstands the shock of seismic convulsion better than any other type of architecture. Not one of the tall steel frame buildings suffered serious damage from the earthquake, where the foundation was stable, whereas, structures of ordinary brick were badly shattered or totally wrecked. All well constructed buildings resting on secure foundations escaped with comparatively little injury, but where buildings rested on insecure piling, loose sand or the soft filling of made land the destruction was terrific. It was from the broken ruins of these wrecks that the great conflagration sprang. In other words, San Francisco owes her catastrophe mainly to bad construction on insecure foundations.

But the staunchness of the Ferry building, which rests entirely on piles, proves that a pile foundation is secure if properly driven and firmly concreted.

Architects and engineers are busy studying out the effects of both earthquake and fire, and are all coming to an agreement with respect to the superiority of the steel frame structure. They point out that buildings of this type stood firm under earthquake shock and were the last to succumb to fire.

Moreover they are practically agreed that Romanesque arch and heavy cornices of stone or terra cotta are things of the past. The arches shattered and collapsed under the vibrant strain while stone and terra cotta cornices were displaced and hurled in fragments to the streets below, dealing death and destruction to the immediate neighborhood.

The so-called fire wall has also come to judgment so far as San Francisco is concerned. It is simply a parapet of brick and mortar devised to protect roofs from fire. These parapets are not gripped or sustained by anything, and when they encountered the sharp vibrations of seismic convulsion, were flung broadcast, mere fragments of brick and mortar. The fire wall is all right in a city not subject to seismic shock, architects and engineers are simply a futile menace in a region where seismic shocks are common.

GREAT FUND IS RAISED IN NEW YORK

More Than Half a Million Dollars Is Raised in a Few Minutes.

NEW YORK, April 20.—More than half a million dollars was subscribed here yesterday for the relief sufferers in the California disaster. In addition to the relief fund it was announced that Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, has offered $100,000 to the University of California, if needed toward the erection of new buildings.

Yesterday's contributions came without any organized effort. Mayor McClellan last night however issued a proclamation appointing a representative committee of relief which will meet and organize in the City Hall today, when systematic work will be begun.

Yesterday's big subscription list was headed by John D. Rockefeller with a contribution of $100,000. The United Railways Investment Company, through its brokers, subscribed 75,000, M. Guggenheim & Sons contributed $50,000, the Carnegie Hero Fund and J. P. Morgan & Co., $25,000. Many other contributions of $10,000 and $5,000 helped to swell the total.

The New York Stock brokers contributed a total of $85,000 in addition to the large individual contributions announced from the Wall Street district.

Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, who lost much property at San Francisco is chairman of a committee of ladies arranging for a benefit Saturday afternoon and evening at the Hippodrome.

HOW THE FIRE SWEEP ALONG VAN NESS

Ferry Building Across the Bay Presented a Pitiful Scene.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20 5:19 a. m.—The fire which heretofore had crept around the base of Telegraph Hill and left the few houses standing there, has crept back from the west, and is now in full possession of the houses on the hill and will no doubt take everything down to the water front on Van Ness avenue and west of there.

The main fire has reached Octavia street and is going at a fast rate. There is no one in from the fire since midnight. At that time it had started afresh on the South and the line of fire was burning fast.

The ferry buildings present a fearful scene of men, women and children and the few articles they have tried to save.

They are all anxious to leave the city by the first boat they can get away on.

The road leading from the ferry north and around the shore of the bay as far as Fort Mason is strewn with all sorts of vehicles that have broken down. Baby carriages, etc., that would not stand the loads over the rough way, have been abandoned, in some cases with their loads.

"The fire came very close to Fort Mason last night, and the big Fontana warehouse and near-by canneries will no doubt go today. I think the fire will make a clean sweep of everything as far as Golden Gate Park. Would not be surprised to see it take the eucalyptus trees that line the park and burn the shrubbery clear to the ocean beach."

EUREKA IN NO DANGER

The steamer Corona arrived at San Francisco from Eureka, Humboldt county at 1:30 this morning and reports that the shock was not felt there to any great degree. No buildings were damaged and only a few chimneys toppled over. The blaze of the fire could be seen fifty miles at sea.

Chicago, April 20.—Chicago yesterday raised $189,940 for the relief of the distress in San Francisco and this amount the result of only two meetings that have been held by the Chicago Commercial association which raised $119,850 and the Chicago Clearing House Association at which $70,000 was subscribed. It is believed that by Saturday night over $1,000,000 will have been collected.

A special meeting of the City Council was held late yesterday and Mayor Dunne was asked to appoint a committee of five hundred to raise funds. Besides these formal meetings the B. N. B. R. R. the firemen members of the police
